TRAI ASSURES NO DELAY IN OTP DELIVERY AS NEW RULES TO KICK IN

The regulator said the new regulations meant to improve message traceability and combat fraud will not affect the delivery of bank OTPs

NEW REGULATIONS TO TAKE EFFECT ON DEC 1

The new norms, likely to take effect on Sunday, will require telecom service providers to trace the origin of bulk messages, including one-time-passwords. Some reports had said this would delay delivery of messages, including OTPs. "This is factually incorrect. It will not delay delivery of any message," the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India said in a post on X

OCT DEADLINE PUSHED ON TELECOS' REQUEST

Buzz on tough talk as EAM meets Modi

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

AMID escalating tensions in Bangladesh, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar on Thursday met Prime Minister Narendra Modi to discuss the situation. There is speculation that Jaishankar may make a statement in both Houses of Parliament on Friday, if there are no disruptions.

In response to this newspaper's query on the possibility of the government making a statement on the issue, Jaishankar said, "We haven't decided anything yet".

Sources said Jaishankar's meeting with Modi lasted for 30 minutes. The meeting comes in the wake of the recent arrest of Hindu leader Chinmoy Krishna Das and rising attacks on minorities in Bangladesh.

Meanwhile, MoS for external affairs Kirti Vardhan Singh said it is the responsibility of the Muhammad Yunus-led administration to protect the minorities. In a written reply to a question in the Rajya Sabha, he said New Delhi has expressed its concerns to Dhaka.

Congress MP Shashi Tharoor said officials of the foreign ministry will brief the Parliamentary Standing Committee on External Affairs on Bangladesh on December 11.

West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee expressed concerns over the situation in Bangladesh but said she will go by the Centre's decision.

In a relief to ISKCON, the Bangladesh High Court rejected a petition seeking its ban. The plea was moved after a lawyer was killed in a clash between security personnel and supporters of Chinmoy, who was earlier with ISKCON.

Mahayuti leaders discuss Maha power-share formula with Shah

Eknath Shinde, Devendra Fadnavis and Ajit Pawar hold talks with the Union home minister

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

EIGHT days after the ruling Mahayuti's thumping victory in Maharashtra, its leaders Devendra Fadnavis, Eknath Shinde and Ajit Pawar held talks with Union home minister Amit Shah in Delhi amid indications that the final call on chief ministership could be made in a day or two.

The meeting is also expected to discuss cabinet berths. Highly placed sources said out of total 42 ministerial slots in the outgoing government, the BJP wants to retain at least 50% while giving the Shiv Sena 30% and the NCP 20%.

Sources said the RSS wants a senior party leader elevated as chief minister, adding the message has been conveyed to Prime Minister Narendra Modi. "RSS was silent in Lok Sabha polls, therefore BJP's tally crashed from 23 to 9 in Maharashtra. But in the state polls, its cadre was active and that changed the final outcome. We have to promote a strong and young leader, therefore this is the best time to elevate Fadnavis as CM and later project him as the face of the BJP at the Centre," said sources requesting anonymity.

However, the BJP top brass is considering other names as well. "Fadnavis is a Brahmin. In the state elections, OBCs voted unitedly for the Mahayuti as did Marathas in large numbers. So, the BJP leadership is evaluating if they have a suitable OBC or Maratha candidate in the party for the top post, hence the delay in the final call," said top sources.

Ajit Pawar is certain to retain his position as deputy chief minister (DCM) and wants to keep the weighty portfolios he held in the previous government. He is pushing for finance, agriculture etc. Shinde wants Home and Urban Development if he is not made the chief minister.

"Shinde proposed that his son Shrikant Shinde be elevated as DCM but the BJP is lukewarm, as it would weaken its campaign against dynasts. Shinde, however, argues that it is for the Shiv Sena to decide its DCM candidate, not the BJP. The flux has prompted many senior Sena leaders to enter the DCM ring," said sources.

Sources said many senior NCP and Sena ministers in the last government are unsure whether they will be part of the new dispensation. "Keeping everyone happy this time around will be tough because the number of MLAs is more. The massive mandate is good for stability but it is not easy to keep everyone in good humour," said a senior NCP leader requesting anonymity.

Shut defunct borewell or face a year in jail

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

TO put an end to children falling into open borewells, the State government is amending the law and bringing in stringent measures, including a one-year jail term for those who fail to close them.

Speaking to reporters after the cabinet meeting, Law Minister HK Patil said the cabinet has given approval to the Minor Irrigation and Ground Water Development Department's proposed Karnataka Groundwater (Regulation and Control of Development Management) Amendment Bill, 2024. He said at many places, borewells were left open and safety measures were not taken, like closing them with a cap.

Explaining, Patil said a few years ago, a child fell and got stuck inside a borewell in Bagalkote. Since then, there have been discussions on safety measures. "If the owner digs a borewell and it fails, they have to fill it. the Bill has been proposed to bring in stringent action and avoid such incidents. The land owner who digs the borewell, the agency which takes up borewell drilling will be held responsible if the borewell is not closed. P4

CM to be RDPR varsity chancellor

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE State government has proposed to make the chief minister the chancellor of Karnataka State Rural Development and Panchayat Raj University (KSRDPRU). The Karnataka State Rural Development and Panchayat Raj (Amendment) Draft Bill, 2024, was approved by the cabinet on Thursday. The draft bill proposes transfer of the Governor's powers to the CM.

Law Minister HK Patil told reporters after the cabinet meeting that with the amendment, the CM will be the Chancellor. They decided to amend the bill to take decisions and execute works quickly. Many states have a similar system, he said.

"All powers vested with the Governor will get transferred to the Chief Minister," he said. The KSRDPRU is related to government administration, rural development and panchayats, and in order to manage it academically, they proposed to make the CM the Chancellor, he said.

Mild intensity blast in Delhi's Rohini area, second incident in forty days

UJWAL JALALI @ New Delhi

A mild-intensity explosion at the entrance of a park near Delhi Police's Crime Branch office in Rohini on Thursday cocked a snook at the security apparatus in the national capital at a time when Parliament is in session. This was the second blast in Rohini's Prashant Vihar area in the past 40 days. On October 20, a mysterious blast had taken place near Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF) school in Rohini. Its probe is still underway.

Thursday's blast took place just 2 km away from the site of the earlier explosion outside the CRPF school. It left the driver of a milk distribwution van injured. He was identified as Chetan Khushwaha, 27. There was no damage to his van, though. "He was taken to Dr Baba Saheb Ambedkar Hospital from where he was discharged after first aid," a senior officer said.

A Delhi Fire Service officer said a call regarding an explosion near Bansi Sweet Shop, Prashant Vihar, Rohini was received at 11.48 am following which four fire tenders were rushed to the spot. Senior police officers also reached the site followed by multiple security agencies, including the bomb disposal squad of the National Security Guard (NSG) and National Investigative Agency (NIA).

Investigators gathered fragments of 'white powder' from the site and sent them to the Forensic Science Laboratory (FSL). They also recovered small wires, which indicate that they could have been used to detonate the bomb.

CCI launches probe against Google

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Competition Commission of India (CCI) on Thursday launched an investigation into Google after online gaming firm WinZo accused the US tech giant of anti-competitive practices. In the order, the regulator asked its director-general to wrap up the probe and submit a report in 60 days.

WinZo, an online gaming platform, has alleged that Google's policies for hosting apps on the Play Store are unfair. It says Google's Developer Distribution Agreement and Developer Program Policies are one-sided, adding that Google restricts hosting of gaming applications that offer Real Money Games (RMP) in India. As a result, customers are forced to download the WinZo app from its website.

Additionally, when users download the app on Android devices, misleading warnings are displayed, which WinZo claims tarnish its reputation.

The CCI has taken notice of these allegations and ordered an investigation into Google's business practices, citing concerns over discriminatory conduct. The regulator noted that exclusion from the Play Store is tantamount to denial of market access. As for the disclaimer that pops up while downloading the app, the CCI said the warning is peculiar to the Google-operated Android OS and is completely illegal.

Ex-teacher accuses KPCC gen secy of sexual harassment

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A 38-year-old woman who used to work in an educational institution run by a Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) general secretary, has accused the latter of sexually harassing several female staff working at the school.

Accordingly, the CK Achukattu police have registered an FIR against KPCC general secretary Gurappa Naidu, who is also the chairman of a private school in Thyagarajanagar. Following a complaint from a former school-teacher, the police registered a case of sexual harassment (IPC 354A) against Naidu on Tuesday. The complainant, who worked at the school for two years since 2021, claimed she quit her job unable to bear his alleged harassment.

The teacher, in her complaint, stated that when she was working at the school, there were 75 female staff, and she accused Naidu of harassing them by recording their obscene videos. He is alleged to have also threatened them to make their videos public, if they did not comply with him. She has further alleged that Naidu used to call her to his chamber and repeatedly harass her for sexual favours. She also accused him of verbally abusing her for not cooperating with him.

In her complaint, she stated that on the last day of her work, she went home crying and was consoled by her mother. It was due to her inability to tolerate his harassment that she reportedly quit her job. CONTINUED ON P5

BMRCL revises deadline of Airport Line to Sept 2026

Line to be split in 2 phases; Only first phase will be in place by June 2026

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

DUE to the slow pace of construction work witnessed along one segment of the 36.44-km Airport Line from K R Pura to Kempegowda International Airport (KIA), the Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) has said that the full line (Phase-2B) can be launched only by September 2026. It will be split into two phases and only the first phase would be in place by June 2026, the latest promised deadline.

BMRCL officials told The New Indian Express that the stretch from Hebbal to airport would be opened initially while the stretch from K R Pura to Hebbal will have a delayed launch.

Asked about the reasons for the delay, a top official said, "We need to carry out construction work on the main road between two flyovers. Since it is a very busy spot, the traffic block we can take is only for a few hours. Hence, we are only able to work very slowly." Comparatively, work on the other stretch of the Airport Line from Hebbal to KIA is taking place along the service roads and work can proceed smoothly, he added.

The Outer Ring Road Line from Central Silk Board to K R Pura is on target to be completed by June 2026, he said. Another senior official though was sceptical of these deadlines. "Let us wait and see when the civil works get completed," the official said.

SWM transfer station with 200 MT capacity opened

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah inaugurated a Solid Waste Management (SWM) Transfer Station, which has a capacity of processing 150-200 metric tonne of waste per day, at Chalavadi Palya in Chamarajpet on Thursday. The facility aims to improve the existing standards of public health and environmental quality by establishing an efficient mechanism for the collection and transportation of solid waste.

According to BBMP officials, the facility helps elimination of black spots and leachate, improves visual cleanliness and streamlines the SWM system.

Presently, waste is collected at the source as dry and wet waste, then transported through labour and capital intensive process. This includes temporary storage at street-level holding points, which often leads to waste spillage, black spots, leachate and unhygienic conditions, posing significant health risks.

"To make the city litter-free and to tackle these issues, the newly inaugurated mechanised transfer station eliminates secondary transfer points, prevents waste from touching the ground and directly loads garbage onto larger vehicles for disposal," said a senior engineer associated with Bengaluru Solid Waste Management Company Limited.

The engineer also added that an amount of Rs. 40 crore was granted by the state government to establish three Transfer Stations. While, one has been already set up at BTM Layout, one more will come up in Sarvajna Nagar assembly constituency.

Further, municipality officials said that the system also ensures data collection of waste generated and also prevents the spread of different types of diseases, since waste is now automatically sorted and is not dumped anywhere.

School education dept to focus on absentees to improve SSLC results

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TO improve the performance of students in the SSLC exam, the Department of School Education and Literacy instructed schools to identify students who are regularly absent from classes and work to bring them back to school. The department is also encouraging students who failed the SSLC exam last year to register and pass this year.

Data submitted by districts on students needing special attention show that Bengaluru North and South have the highest numbers, with 12,126 and 13,399 students, respectively. Teachers have been instructed to hold extra classes to help these students focus on their studies.

Commissioner for Public Instruction, Dr KV Thrilok Chandra told TNIE that teachers will meet with the parents of these students to understand the reasons behind their absenteeism. Steps will be taken to bring them back to class, specially the low performers. The senior officer added that some students have also expressed the need for special attention in certain topics and subjects, and teachers have been instructed to assist them. After last year's poor exam results, the department has decided to put in extra efforts to improve the pass percentage. Despite a normalisation process and the granting of grace marks, the pass percentage last year was 73.4%. A weekly review meeting will be conducted by the director of Secondary Education in all districts. Every two weeks, the commissioner will personally attend these meetings.

No change in paper pattern

In response to recent reports suggesting changes in the SSLC exam question paper design for 2024-25, the chairman of the Karnataka School Examinations and Evaluation Board clarified that there will be no changes. The design will remain the same as last year. A committee of subject experts will be formed next academic year to review the question paper design. Model question papers for this year will be published soon on the board's website.

'MYSTERIOUS' ILLNESS AFFLICTS 262 FAMILIES IN UPSCALE APARTMENT

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

FOR the last five days, a significant number of residents of a 830-apartment residential complex in Kaggalipura on Kanakapura Road have been afflicted with a mysterious illness. Young children and senior citizens of Brigade Meadows Plumeria have been found to be particularly vulnerable. Vomiting, fever and stomach cramps have been reported by at least 500 residents covering 262 families, confirmed residents. The apartment uses water from its own borewell for consumption.

Local doctors who treated the patients bill it as gastroenteritis but the exact cause is yet to be determined as different labs have given different responses to the water samples tested.

TNIE spoke to multiple families who insisted on anonymity. A resident said, "It all began on Sunday night, when my elderly father, wife, kids and I fell ill. No one is clear about what is going on. My wife could not go to work and my kids had to stay back at home. Since I work from home, I started working today. Some serious health problem is going on but we are all in the dark about it," he said and added that kids of many families have skipped school since Monday.

Another resident said, "Water samples have been sent to two private labs. The report by SLN Testing Lab rules out water contamination while the report from Robust Materials Technology Private Limited indicates the presence of Coliform bacteria (fecal contamination) and E.Coli (contamination from human or animal waste)."

On the other hand, a report sent to a government lab revealed that water in five of its six tanks were good. "One tank which caters to one block alone is reported to have E.coli. Water supply has been stopped from this tank and has been cleaned thoroughly," he added.

Another resident said, "Residents are panicky and no one knows who will fall ill next. It is such an upscale apartment and we are feeling ashamed to even speak about it outside."

Administrative medical officer of the Community Health Centre, Dr Radha told TNIE, "Our staff have visited the apartment with the District surveillance officer and the taluk health officer. It seems to be a mild case of gastroenteritis. We have suggested multiple precautionary steps to the residents."

Additional superintendent of the St John's Hospital, Dr R Jayashree said, "Residents started coming in from November 23. I have been treating them and discharging them. Those who visited yesterday and today are getting better. We are trying to figure out what exactly is the issue."

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

29th November: The Moon is forming some fascinating patterns right now. According to all ancient lore, and some modern evidence, general energy levels drop at this time. The old astrological writers used to say that this is a bad moment for launching new enterprises. I'm not sure. I think that it's more important to consider what kind of project you're about to embark on.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
There may be little you can do to avoid a break at home today. Even at work, it seems as if the habits of the past are no longer serving you as well as they once did. If you jump before you are pushed then you will keep control and stay one step ahead.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You can forget the details which normally occupy your Taurean consciousness. It's issues of principle which demand your attention today, and you should make every effort to focus on the larger picture. In particular, you need to establish who is responsible for a recent mess.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Your social life should already have taken a welcome turn, with a better than average chance of happy invitations and long sought-after contacts finally coming your way. You should appreciate all good fortune, otherwise an opportunity may be snatched from you again.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You must now make a positive choice. I am afraid there is little time left and if you fail to act decisively you may miss your chance for at least another six months, by which time your position will have changed - and you might find yourself back at square one.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
There's been a lot of tension around lately, and some harsh words. Relationships at work may not be as easy as you would like, but they never are when you are forced to change, even when that change is for the better. A good rest is the best way to ward off nervous exhaustion.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You're not quite sure what to do next, but the first step in the right direction is probably to level with loved ones. You can afford to feel more than confident that they will have to accept whatever you decide. After all, you are boss. At least, you will be if you stay cool.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The last few days may have brought strange feelings and new desires, but the coming ones are crucial as far as short-term romantic, social and work plans are involved. Don't allow yourself to be pressurised or forced into making arrangements against your will.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
The Moon moves into a region of your horoscope which, while not entirely sympathetic, nevertheless reinforces important and special Scorpionic traits. You can move forward with hope, especially as you seem to take in your stride the sort of upsets which throw other people off balance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You might well have had enough of certain people, and perhaps you'd like to spend some time by yourself. Yet, a potentially sociable period begins today and many of you may consider taking the day off! At the very least, you should put mindless details to one side and take steps to vary your activities.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It's one thing to juggle all your different responsibilities, but another to keep every ball in the air at the same time. Please be realistic - and don't take on more than you can possibly handle. If you do make commitments, you don't intend to fulfil, then you may be unpleasantly surprised when other people hold you to your word.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Venus is now sufficiently far into a sympathetic region of your chart for us to make certain statements about your leisure activities. In particular, the emphasis is shifting towards self-indulgence, so why don't you pamper yourself - just for a change?

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You have become used to a social life that is considerably more to your liking than it ever was a few years ago. You are now about to experience a very pleasant pay-off for all your efforts. But, first, you have to steel yourself to deal with a few more awkward people and emotional demands.

NEWBORN'S BODY FOUND FLUSHED DOWN HOSPITAL TOILET

Infant 1-2 days old; Accused may have attempted to conceal the baby's birth

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN a horrific incident, a premature baby was found flushed down the toilet of a private hospital in Harohalli, Ramanagara district. The newborn's body was found in the ground floor toilet in the Neurology department of Dayananda Sagar Hospital, part of Dr Chandramma Dayananda Sagar Institute of Medical Education & Research (CDSIMER), when the staff noticed a blockage on Wednesday morning and called sweepers and plumbers to fix the clogged commode.

A senior police officer told TNIE that the toilet, although part of the hospital, was open to the public. "The toilet on the ground floor was used by outsiders and treated like a public washroom. We are investigating whether the accused was a hospital patient or an outsider who came on the pretext of using the restroom and flushed the body," police said.

The cleaning staff noticed something obstructing the water flow and initially assumed it was cloth or waste. They were horrified to find the body of a newborn, which was removed using equipment typically used to clear toilet blockages. It is believed the infant was one or two days old.

Police sent the body for postmortem, and suspect that the accused may have attempted to conceal the baby's birth. Police are reviewing CCTV footage from the hospital to gather clues about the suspects. They said no complaint had been filed about a missing newborn and suspect the mother may be involved, or the baby was brought from elsewhere.

The hospital management refused to comment on the incident. Harohalli police registered a case under BNS Section 94 — concealment of a child's birth by burying or disposing of the child's body in a secret manner.

Man lynched for marrying 20-yr-old

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chitradurga

SIX people, who were involved in the murder of a 40-year-old person, who married a 20-year-old girl, were arrested by Bharamasagara police, Chitradurga district, on Thursday.

The deceased has been identified as Manjunath (40). He was allegedly lynched by a group of 20 people, relatives of his wife Rakshitha (20), on Wednesday.

A grievously injured Manjunath was unconscious and was immediately rushed to Sirigere community health centre.

Later, he was shifted to Chitradurga district hospital where he was declared dead.

Meanwhile, the police arrested Kavya, Divya, Shankaramma, Basavaraj, Prasanna, and Harish on suspicion. A total of 20 people are accused in the case. Manjunath's father, Chandrappa, and mother Anasuya, also suffered injuries

Chitradurga SP Ranjith Kumar Bandaru said that a case has been filed against 20 people and six arrests have been made so far.

He said that Manjunath had married a girl, Shilpa, who committed suicide in 2019. Based on the death note, a case for abetment to suicide was registered and he was sentenced to 6 years imprisonment. Manjunath got bail from the High Court after which he came out of prison 10 months ago.

After this, Manjunath had an affair with Rakshitha (20), whom he married in October, he said. However, the family of Rakshitha did not accept the marriage as the age difference between the duo was 20 years.

Parents of Rakshitha were not ready to get their daughter married to Manjunath and a meeting was held in the presence of village heads and the issue was settled. It was decided to conduct the marriage in public and the girl was taken away by her parents. Manjunath, who came to Konanuru on Wednesday, was attacked by 20 people with sharp weapons.

5 held for robbing man, ₹11L cash recovered

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FIVE miscreants, who threatened and robbed the employee of a vehicle spare parts dealer, was arrested by the Kalasipalya police. Ummar Ahmed (25), the prime accused, had handed over Rs 15 lakh in cash to Ram Prasad Pandit (38) on November 16 at 8:30 pm, asking him to give the same to his employer, as part of business transactions. However, Ahmed later informed four of his associates about the cash and sent them a video and the location of the victim's residence.

The gang then threatened the victim at knife point and escaped with the cash and two mobile phones on November 19.

The victim, who resided on the fourth floor of a building on Siddaiah Road, had approached the police at 4 am and filed a complaint, based on which the accused were arrested.

The accused have been identified as B Ummar Ahmed (25) of Dodda Mavalli, N Shajjad Pasha (23) of RT Nagar, M Mohammed Moeej (25) of Dodda Mavalli, R Yaseen Ahmed Sheriff (19) of Kalasipalya and N Shoaib Pasha (20) of RT Nagar.

The police also recovered Rs 11.3 lakh in cash, a car, a two-wheeler and seven mobile phones from the accused.

"Of the accused, Sajjad Pasha has an FIR registered against him in another case. Ummar and Mohammed are working in a spare parts shop and the two others unemployed," said the police.

Actor Deepika Das, mother get threat calls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

DB Padmalatha, mother of Kannada actress and Kannada Bigg Boss Season 9 contestant R Deepika Das filed a police complaint after enduring months of verbal abuse and threat calls from a man identified as Yashwanth. The accused not only targetted Padmalatha but also made allegations against Deepika's husband, Deepak Kumar, while demanding money to avoid tarnishing her image.

Besides, he also threatened to commit suicide by writing their names in the death note. Unable to bear the harassment, which is said to have been ongoing for the past 10 months, Padmalatha, 49, a resident of Dasanapura, filed a complaint with the Madanayakanahalli police on Monday. Sources said that Deepika and Deepak were married for approximately eight months.

Padmalatha, in her police complaint, stated that the caller first accused her decision of allowing her daughter to marry Deepak. He also made claims that Deepak was involved in illegal activities and was a cheat. When she advised Yashwath to provide evidence and pursue legal action, if he had any evidence against her son-in-law, he began harassing Deepika. He accused her husband of forming an illegal layout and cheating the public. He also asked the actress to swear at the grave of actor Puneeth Rajkumar if she was unaware of it.

After the caller threatened to end his life, Padmalatha, knocked on the doors of the police, who have registered a case of extortion under Section 308(2) of BNS. Further investigations are on.

Tumakuru cops bust illegal gun making racket, weapons seized

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Tumakuru

POLICE busted a gang that was making country guns illegally, and seized four weapons from the accused.

The accused are TR Madhuchandra (29), S Shivakumar (24) of Tippuru in Gubbi taluk, Manjunath (39) of Udde Hosakere, Thimmaraju (45) and Raveesh (50) of Handanakere, and Imran Pasha (40) of Tumakuru town.

The accused had been assembling guns at a farmhouse at Handanakere, and used them to poach animals in the forests.

On August 12, Madhuchandra and Shivakumar went hunting in Tippuru, where a local, Darshan, raised an objection. In the melee they dropped the weapon which accidentally fired at the leg of Darshan's wife Chaitra.

Chaitra lodged a complaint with Gubbi police, which took up investigation that led to crack the illegal assembling of pistols.

"Thimmaraju and Raveesh were making them in Handanakere, where Imran gave them technical support. They had sold the weapons at Rs 25,000 to Rs 30,000 per piece to their customers across the district. Investigation is in progress to seize the weapons," informed SP Ashok KV. He appreciated Sira Dy SP B K Shekar led police team that cracked the racket.

CABINET DECIDES TO REOPEN GRAFT CASE AGAINST BSY, FAMILY

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka cabinet on Thursday decided to reopen corruption and money laundering cases against former chief minister and BJP strongman BS Yediyurappa and his family members.

The cabinet has decided to recommend to the Governor to review the petition filed by TJ Abraham against the then CM BS Yediyurappa, which was rejected by the then Governor. The cabinet has approved to recommend to the Governor to allow the probe in the case against Yediyurappa.

Speaking to reporters after the cabinet meeting, Karnataka Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister HK Patil said the issue came up before the cabinet and was widely discussed. Yediyurappa is now neither the chief minister nor an MLA. Elaborating, Patil said that in November 2020, Abraham lodged a complaint with the Anti-Corruption Bureau (ACB) under the Prevention of Corruption Act and also under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act against Yediyurappa, his family members, and associates.

The complaint had carried serious allegations of corruption against Yediyurappa and his family members. The allegations were made by Abraham, who sought the Governor's approval to prosecute the BJP leader. The Governor had rejected the permission.

Further, Patil said there were 16 allegations. This is about BDA, which had issued a tender for the construction of 1BHK and 3BHK flats at Bengaluru East Taluk, Patil said. While two bidders participated, the tender was awarded to the bidder (Ramalingam Construction Company) who quoted more, Patil added.

The complainant had alleged the then BDA Commissioner GC Prakash demanded Rs 12 crore bribe on behalf of Yediyurappa and his family members. "When Abraham lodged a complaint, the Governor rejected permission for a probe," he said.

Later, Yediyurappa approached the High Court and filed a Special Leave Petition before the Supreme Court. "Recently, prosecution sanction was obtained by the investigation officer against the then BDA Commissioner. It makes out a clear case of grant of approval for investigation on serious allegations of corruption against Yediyurappa," he said, adding that while the investigation against the accused in going on, there will be no purpose served if the principal accused is shielded in the said investigation.

On the cabinet objecting to Abraham's complaint against Siddaramaiah in the past and now taking the case further in Yediyurappa's case, Patil said that the person is not important, but the issue is important.

K'taka Tourism Ropeways Bill gets approval

ASKED about other universities in the state, Patil said, "When other university amendment issues come up, we will talk about it too." He, however, said all state universities work under the Karnataka University Act, and are different from the KSRDPRU. Interestingly, the Governor has to give approval to the amendment bill.

The cabinet also approved the Chanakya University Amendment Bill to have a government nominee as a University syndicate member. Usually, all private universities have a government nominee, but when Chanakya University started in 2021, a government nominee was not included.

The cabinet also approved the Karnataka Tourism Ropeways Bill, 2024, that will be placed in both Houses of legislature during the upcoming winter session in Belagavi. Patil said a survey has been conducted at 12 places to introduce ropeway facilities, which will be done under private-public partnership. Work on Nandi Hills has started and a survey at Yadgir has began. Anjanadri and Kodachadri are on the list, and no decision has been taken on Chamundi Hills in Mysuru.

Siddu in Delhi; Will Nagendra return as minister?

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@Bengaluru

SPECULATIONS are rife over a possible cabinet reshuffle with Chief Minister Siddaramaiah flying to New Delhi on Thursday evening. The CM and DyCM DK Shivakumar, are visiting Delhi to attend the Congress Working Committee (CWC) meeting to be held on Friday.

According to informed sources, the CM is likely to discuss with the party top brass the induction of former tribal welfare minister B Nagendra into the cabinet. Nagendra resigned in connection with the alleged illegal money transfer from state-run Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation Ltd.

Apart from attending the CWC meeting, Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar are likely to discuss the state's political developments with the top brass leaders, including AICC chief Mallikarjun Kharge, LoP in Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi, and AICC general secretaries KC Venugopal and Randeep Singh Surjewala.

Siddaramaiah, who was facing the heat over various alleged scams in MUDA and ST Corporation, is beaming with confidence after the Congress' victory in the recent bypolls to Sandur, Shiggaon, and Channapatna.

Since the Special Investigation Team (SIT) has given Nagendra a clean chit in the ST Corporation multi-crore scam, the Congress brass is most likely to give its nod to induct the former into the cabinet, said informed sources. Apart from the tribal welfare department, Nagendra was also the Ballari district in-charge minister.

"There is no urgency for a cabinet reshuffle for Siddaramaiah and also for the high command to change the KPCC president as no elections are due in the immediate future in Karnataka," said a Congress leader.

"If Siddaramaiah effects a reshuffle ahead of the assembly session, it is like he is opening a can of worms and handing out a weapon to the BJP, which is a divided house. The BJP would set a narrative as the reshuffle was necessitated because the ministers were corrupt and inefficient," the Congress leader added.

However, several ministers, including Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara, admit to talks on the reshuffle and change in KPCC president. According to party insiders, Siddaramaiah's man Friday and PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi, a ST Nayaka leader, and two Veerashaiva-Lingayats—Large Scale Industries Minister MB Patil and Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre—are among the frontrunners for the KPCC chief's post. Cooperation Minister KN Rajanna, also a ST Nayaka leader, also threw his hat in the ring, claiming that he too deserves to lead the party in the state.

The Congress high command, however, is not expected to appoint a new KPCC president in a hurry until it gets convinced that a leader who can match DK Shivakumar's stature in the party can replace him. "Shivakumar had toiled hard when the party was in a bad shape. There was a pact between the CM, DyCM, Kharge, and high command leaders that a change in the guard should happen after two-and-a-half years... until then, any major change—both in the government and the party—is unlikely," he said.

If Siddaramaiah effects a reshuffle ahead of the assembly session, it is like he is opening a can of worms and handing out a weapon to the BJP, which is a divided house – Congress leader

₹5K fine, 3 months in jail if you sink borewell sans nod, safety measures

THE violators will be sent to jail for one year and a penalty of Rs 10,000 will be levied. Also, if the borewell is dug up without taking permission and violates safety norms, Rs 5,000 and three months in jail has been proposed. He, however, said officials are not included in the bill.

Nine bills were approved by the cabinet. Patil said the Karnataka Workers' Welfare Amendment Bill 2024. Under this, contribution of labour, owner and government was Rs 20, Rs 40 and Rs 20 respectively, that was given to worker welfare funds. Now, this has been made Rs 50 from labour, Rs 100 from owner and Rs 50 from government to the corpus funds. We were collecting Rs 42 crore earlier and with the new amendment, we are expecting to collect Rs 100 crore per year. The money was spent on workers in large amounts, including during Covid-19 time," he said.

Congress worker alleges graft in bar licence process

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

A Congress worker on Thursday filed a complaint with the Lokayukta accusing officials of the Excise Department of demanding hefty bribes to issue a bar licence.

The Congress worker has been identified as Puneeth.

The complaint, backed by audio evidence, has sparked outrage on social media platforms.

According to the viral audio clip, Puneeth has alleged that bar licences are issued only after paying bribes amounting to lakhs of Rupees. The complaint names Excise Deputy Commissioner Ravishankar and Maddur Excise Inspector Shivashankar as the main accused.

Puneeth had applied online for a CL-7 bar licence to open a bar and restaurant in Maddur taluk, registering the business under his mother, Lakshmamma's name, he said in the complaint. However, he claims the application was rejected four times because he refused to pay a bribe.

According to the the complaint, Ravishankar initially demanded a bribe of Rs 40 lakh but later offered a "50% discount," reducing the demand to Rs 20 lakh. He allegedly insisted that Puneeth also compensate subordinate officers and staff.

Congress govt ignoring North K'taka: Ashoka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

LEADER of Opposition in the Assembly, R Ashoka, on Thursday accused the Congress government in the state of ignoring North Karnataka.

"Not enough has been given to North Karnataka... we will make sure that the entire state knows the truth," Ashoka said. He added that all North Karnataka legislators, himself included, would raise their voice in the upcoming winter session of the legislature to be held in Belagavi.

Ashoka's remarks comes after a meeting with BJP legislators from North Karnataka.

"The Congress government boasts about having funds, yet no financial assistance has reached North Karnataka. Not a single investment, no compensation for crop losses, and no funding for irrigation projects. Despite promises, the Nanjundappa Report remains a distant dream... it's been a year with no action," Ashoka said.

Ashoka lambasted the State Government's claims of prioritising Kalyana Karnataka, stating that a Cabinet meeting held in Kalaburagi was nothing but a farce, with no concrete plans or funding being issued. Meanwhile, Karnataka faces massive disruptions as employees from the Transport Department and contractors in the Excise Department are now threatening to go on strike, leaving crucial public services in jeopardy, he said.

Meanwhile, an audio clip has surfaced in which an officer allegedly of the Excise Department is purportedly heard offering 50% discount on liquor licenses in exchange for bribes. "This corruption is now out in the open," Ashoka said. "The BJP will not stand by silently while such malpractice continues," the former minister said.

Ashoka also slammed the Congress for hiking fees in government hospitals. He also vowed to press for a full investigation into the death of elderly patients at the Ballari District Hospital.

BJP ATTACKING GOVT TO COVER UP INTERNAL BICKERING: UGRAPPA

BENGALURU: KPCC Vice-President VS Ugrappa on Thursday alleged that BJP is carrying out a smear campaign against the state government to cover up internal turmoil within its state unit. "The entire state saw infighting and corruption within the BJP, but they are repeatedly raising the MUDA case and Waqf issue," he told reporters. When BS Yediyurappa and Basavaraj Bommai were chief ministers, around 2,000 notices were issued to farmers by the Waqf Board, whereas during Siddaramaiah's tenure, 500 notices were issued, he pointed out. "All these mistakes were theirs, it is ridiculous that the BJP is pointing fingers at the state government. Though there is a fight between Vijayendra and Yatnal in the BJP, it is misleading the people by making false allegations against the government," he said. Ugrappa alleged that despite the solar project scam involving businessman Gautam Adani being discussed worldwide, Prime Minister Narendra Modi is not allowing a debate in the Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha, and is indirectly protecting Adani and his team. Guarantee Scheme Implementation Committee chairman HM Revanna said when BJP was in power in the state, a committee was formed under the leadership of Kumar Bangarappa on the Waqf land issue. But now Kumar Bangarappa and Yatnal are saying the Waqf committee is not proper. ENS

Campaign Against Hate Speech seeks public apology from seer

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

Campaign Against Hate Speech (a group of concerned citizens, activists, lawyers, and civil society) has written to Karnataka Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara and DG&IGP Alok Mohan demanding legal action against the seer of Vishwa Vokkaliga Mahasamsthana Mutt, Kumara Chandrashekaranatha, for his speech demanding a law to disenfranchise Muslims.

The seer, at the protest organised by Bharatiya Kissan Sangh against the ongoing Waqf Board row, had stated that a law should be enacted to disenfranchise the Muslims in India.

While the seer has tendered an apology, the forum, in a letter on Thursday, claimed that the former should make a public apology similar to his hate speech. "Given that a grave crime has taken place which the apology has only insufficiently addressed, please let us know what legal action will be taken to address this," the forum stated.

They urged that hate speech video sharing and access must be restricted as it is still available and will continue to provoke people. They also demanded a special discussion in the upcoming winter session at Belagavi to address hate speech and also undertake a wide campaign to inform people about the legal consequences of hate speech.

DVS lambasts those questioning Vijayendra's leadership

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

FORMER CM and senior BJP leader DV Sadananda Gowda on Thursday expressed concerns over internal differences in the party coming out in the open and hit out at the leaders questioning state party chief BY Vijayendra's leadership.

The state president is appointed by the central leaders and everyone must accept it, Gowda, a former Union Minister, told media persons. If there are any issue, they should be conveyed to the Central leaders and not spoken about on the streets, he said hitting out at former Union Minister and party MLA Basangounda Patil Yatnal and his team.

"The self-styled leaders are all in touch with the national leaders. They are not small leaders. They are all, former MPs, former ministers, and former union ministers. Talking about the (internal issues) on streets is indiscipline," he said.

Gowda said he had written two letters to the party central leaders expressing concerns about differences in the party in the state but had not received any response.

Responding to Gowda's remarks, Yatnal said it is good for the former CM to keep quiet. Gowda had spoken about Yediyurappa and Vijayendra's corruption, Yatnal said and dared him to deny that standing at Dharmasthala Manjunatha Swamy temple. "The top brass is taking note of all the developments. We will continue with our fight for the people. This fight is not to become the state president or the CM. It is not against any family," he said.

BJP sources said that differences in the party are likely to come up for discussion during the party core committee meeting in Bengaluru on December 3.

Beginning March 1, 2025, Akasa Air will launch daily direct flights between Bengaluru and Abu Dhabi. A statement said bookings are open on the airline's website, Android and ioS apps, and with online travel agents

Naxal rehab panel members seek probe into Vikram Gowda encounter

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

MEMBERS of the state's Naxal Surrender and Rehabilitation Committee appealed to Naxals – Left Wing Extremists (LWEs) of the CPI (Maoist) Party -- who were active in parts of the Western Ghats, to surrender and join the mainstream. They also suggested that the government conduct an investigation into the recent encounter killing of Naxal leader Vikram Gowda, as per the guidelines of the National Human Rights Commission (NHRC).

Senior journalist Parvatheesha Bilidale and advocate KP Sripala had visited places in Hebri taluk on November 23 to assess the situation and understand the circumstances surrounding the death of Vikram Gowda in an encounter with the Anti Naxal Force (ANF).

Addressing a joint press conference on Thursday along with committee member and writer Banjagere Jayaprakash, they said Naxals should give up their armed struggle and join the mainstream as there are avenues within the purview of law to fight for the cause of the poor. Till date, 14 Naxals have surrendered since the policy was introduced with amendments in 2015.

Parvatheesh, who has visited the Naxals' families, said they were facing hardship, and claimed to have advised them to persuade family members to surrender, by explaining the government's rehabilitation packages. There is compensation of Rs 2 lakh, Rs 4 lakh and Rs 7.5 lakh in three slabs for those who surrender, and the information has been disseminated in remote Naxal-infested areas, he said. Among the Naxals who are active underground are John alias Jayanna, Mundagaru Latha, Sundari and Vanajakshi, Parvatheesh said. "It is necessary for the state government to take appropriate legal action and investigate the Vikram Gowda murder case as per the guidelines of the NHRC. In a parliamentary democracy, it is the responsibility of the government to ensure transparency and justice in killings committed by police forces outside the purview of the judiciary. Even after the recent encounter, the committee will continue its efforts to bring the remaining fighters in the forest to the mainstream," he added.

Forest department staff should stop harassing tribals in the name of law and imposing heavy fines. "At least once in two months, district and taluk level officials should hold public meetings near places where tribals live. It should formulate its own rules instead of the one-size-fits-all Central laws," they said.

8-year-old electrocuted in school

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mundwad (Uttara Kannada)

IN a shocking incident, an eight-year-old girl was electrocuted in Uttara Kannada district on Thursday. The incident occurred in Mundwad village of Haliyal taluk, where the girl, identified as Sanvi Basavraj Gavali, went to attend nature's call during the lunch break in the backyard of her school.

According to police, Sanvi stepped on a severed electric wire near the school toilet and was electrocuted. The wire in turn was connected to a borewell to pump water through a newly dug borewell. Separately, it is learnt that the power connection is illegal, being connected to the service line of a distribution line of Hescom. The wire had severed and had fallen inside the toilet used by the children. "Sanvi, who came to use the toilet, came in contact with the live wire and was charred to death," said a villager.

The entire village of about 50 houses plunged into grief over the tragic incident. Locals blamed Hescom officials, who have allegedly turned a blind eye, despite noticing the illegal power connection.

Senior police officers and the tahsildar of Haliyal visited the scene and inspected it. The body of the girl was shifted to Haliyal Government Hospital, where a post-mortem was conducted.

Upon learning of the incident, senior Congress leader and Haliyal MLA R V Deshpande rushed to the hospital and met the girl's relatives. He assured them that the people responsible for the unfortunate incident would be brought to book. A police complaint has been lodged.

Khalistani separatist threatens to disrupt meet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bhubaneswar

WITH Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Home Minister Amit Shah set to arrive for the high-profile DGP conference, Bhubaneswar was placed under a thick blanket of security on Thursday, even as Khalistani separatist Gurpatwant Singh Pannun threatened to disrupt the meet.

The 59th DG and IG conference is being organised for the first time in Odisha. Besides, the PM and the HM, national security advisor Ajit Doval and a host of top officials of security agencies will attend the three-day conference starting on Friday. Many of the senior officers arrived in Bhubaneswar on the day.

To keep an eye on the city, more than 70 platoons of police force and anti-terror agencies have been deployed across Bhubaneswar to ensure the pan-India event passed off smoothly.

Bhubaneswar Police Commissioner S Dev Datta Singh said anti-terror agencies and intelligence wing officials have been mobilised to handle threats posed by anti-national elements, if any.

Singh's statement came hours after Pannun issued a video message. Without commenting on the video issued by the Khalistani extremist, the commissioner said they are keeping a close vigil on every aspect and adequate security arrangements have been made to meet any challenge and ensure there is no law and order situation.

Pannun, who heads the Sikhs for Justice (SFJ) outfit, in a video message, urged his supporters to "disguise and take cover in temples-hotels in Bhubaneswar to disrupt the DG-IG conference."

Sources said security has been heightened across the city including Raj Bhavan, Secretariat, state guest house, IPS mess and travel routes designated for VVIPs and other senior officials. As part of the security net, Central Reserve Police Force and Odisha Police's Special Operations Group (SOG) personnel have been pressed into service in the capital city.

Red alert issued for TN coastal districts

SV KRISHNA CHAITANYA
@ Chennai

THE deep depression over the southwest Bay of Bengal, which has brought intense rainfall to Sri Lanka causing flooding in multiple places, has put North Tamil Nadu on its toes as the regional meteorological centre has issued a red alert for several coastal districts on November 29 and 30. The weather system, which was initially expected to intensify into a cyclonic storm, is likely to gradually weaken into a depression by Friday evening. It will cross the coast as depression, the IMD said.

The Met office has issued a red alert for Chengalpattu, Villupuram, Cuddalore, Mayiladuthurai, Tiruvarur, Nagapattinam, Puducherry, and Karaikal area on Friday, as scattered heavy to very heavy rain with extremely heavy rain is forecasted. A red alert has been issued for Saturday for Chennai, Tiruvallur, Kancheepuram, Chengalpattu, Villupuram, Kallakurichi, Cuddalore districts and Puducherry. Villupuram and Cuddalore have declared a holiday for schools and colleges on Friday while schools and colleges in Puducherry will remain closed on both Friday and Saturday.

A fisherman secures the net near the shores of Besant Nagar beach | P RAVIKUMAR

The rainfall activity will start over Chennai and neighbouring districts from Friday morning and will gradually increase peaking on Saturday.

The system has been stationed in the same region off Sri Lanka coast for the last 24 hours moving very slowly. It is 410 km off the Puducherry coast and 470 km from Chennai. Met officials said it will continue to move north-northwestwards and cross the Tamil Nadu-Puducherry coasts between Karaikal and Mahabalipuram on November 30.

Former IMD chief KH Ramesh told TNIE there will be heavy rain, but the saving grace is that the system will weaken and won't bring with it strong winds to cause any damage to property. "Also, there won't be noticeable storm surges which would help Chennai rivers to drain the road run-off faster."

He said Sri Lanka, in the last three days, got over 600mm of rainfall but Tamil Nadu might not see such extreme rains as dry northwesteries will play its part. "There is a possibility of big rains falling over the sea, but still areas between Puducherry and Chennai would see rainfall in the range of 15 cm to 20 cm in a day. It will be a see-saw battle between the approaching weather system and atmospheric conditions on the land."

RTCs' PF DUES TOUCH ₹2,792cr, SEEK ONE-TIME RELIEF

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ALL four state bus corporations -- KSRTC, BMTC, KKRTC and NWKRTC – have failed to remit employees' Provident Fund (PF) contributions, which amount to a whopping Rs 2,792 crore.

The bus corporations, which are in a financial crisis, have failed to remit PF for the past several months and have now written to the state government to provide one-time relief and clear pending dues.

As per the Employees' Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act of 1952, PF facility is provided to employees. According to it, bus corporations have to deduct 12 per cent of an employee's basic salary and dearness allowance for the PF. Along with this, employers have to deposit an equivalent amount to the Employees' Provident Fund Organisation (EPFO). If these contributions are not remitted on time to EPFO, an interest penalty of 12 per cent per annum has to be paid, as per Section 7Q of the Act.

In the letter dated November 12 to the secretary of the Transport department, KSRTC MD Anbu Kumar has pointed out the above factors, seeking funds from the state government. He has mentioned that bus corporations suffered huge losses during the Covid-19 pandemic, and fuel costs, staff expenditure and other factors have increased significantly year after year.

"From the daily revenue, it has become a challenge to cover fuel and wages of the employees," he explained, and stated that it is not possible to remit due amounts to EPFO and pending dues are increasing every month along with interest penalties.

In the letter, Kumar also pointed out that as pending dues are huge, the Regional Provident Fund Commissioner, Bengaluru, has taken strong objection and warned that if it is not settled, it will invite action to revoke exemptions currently granted to the bus corporations. This has initiated a blame game between the ruling Congress and opposition BJP. While Transport Minister Ramalinga Reddy has blamed the previous BJP government for leaving behind a liability of Rs 5,900 crore, which included pending PF dues and outstanding fuel bills, BJP argued that the free travel Shakti scheme has pushed bus corporations into a huge financial crisis.

No POSH panel at K'taka film chamber

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

DESPITE Karnataka State Women's Commission Chairperson Nagalakshmi Choudhary's deadline to the Karnataka Film Chamber Of Commerce (KFCC) to form a Prevention Of Sexual Harassment (POSH) Committee to report, curb and prevent discrimination, harassment and sexual exploitation in the Kannada film industry, the KFCC is yet to establish the committee.

KFCC president NM Suresh said the chamber had already decided on the matter and has suggested names like director Kavita Lankesh and others to form a committee, but at this point, there will not be any meeting of the executive committee of the KFCC, as elections will be held soon. As per rules, when the election date is announced, a meeting of the executive committee cannot take place till the election is over and results are declared. "The KFCC is for the welfare of producers, distributors and exhibitors. With regard to the setting up of the POSH committee, it has already been communicated with the artistes association, as it is a separate body. On November 14, it was decided that a fresh election would be held. Only after the election is over and a new committee is formed, the matter will be discussed and further decisions on it will be taken by the new committee," said Suresh.

It may be recalled that on August 19, the Justice Hema Committee published its report on discrimination, harassment and sexual exploitation in the Malayalam film industry. Against this backdrop, some of the artistes had met Karnataka Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and urged for the setting up of a POSH committee for the Kannada film industry as well.

Will religious practices crumble if elephants are not paraded, asks HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE@Kochi

DECLINING to relax the 3-metre distance rule between elephants during parades, the Kerala High Court on Thursday orally observed, "Will religious practices crumble if elephants are not paraded during temple festivals? How is it an essential religious practice?"

A division bench comprising Justice AK Jayasankaran Nambiar and Justice Gopinath P made the observation while hearing an application filed by the Cochin Devaswom Board seeking certain exemptions from the guidelines issued by the court, for the Vrishchikolsavam 2025 at Poornathrayeesa Temple in Tripunithura, which begins on Friday.

The court declined to modify its interim guidelines mandating a minimum 3-metre distance between elephants during festival parades, highlighting that the directive was essential to ensure the welfare of elephants and in compliance with constitutional mandates.

"Until the devaswom board proves that religious practices cease to exist without elephants, there is no question of it being an essential religious practice," said the court.

Dr P S Easa, an elephant expert and wildlife biologist, who appeared online, said captive elephants used in festivals are reportedly under stress, which can lead to aggression. He said attempting to accommodate more elephants in a small space could result in significant issues. "If the comfort distance is invaded, elephants may exhibit withdrawal or aggression. Most of the unfortunate incidents of elephants running amok in Kerala reportedly occurred when the animals were forced to stand too close together," he noted.

Odisha to have centre for protecting Asian elephants

BHUBANESWAR: In a move that could yield international support for conservation of elephants in the east-central and other landscapes of the country, the Odisha Government has accepted a proposal for the establishment of a 'Centre for Special Survival of Asian Elephants' in the state. The research centre, which will be a first-of-its-kind in Asia, will come up in Chandaka wildlife division. The Forest department has signed a letter of agreement with the International Union for the Conservation of Nature Species Survival Commission and Wildlife Trust of India, recently. Sources said the centre will enhance the protection of Asian elephants across 13 range countries in South and Southeast Asia.

No road to reach hospital, Tamil Nadu girl dies of snakebite

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Dharmapuri

A 13-year-old girl of Alakattu Vattuvanahalli panchayat, a hamlet located on a hillock, died of snakebite on Thursday after it took nearly two hours for the villagers to reach the bottom of the hill by carrying her on a doli for 8km on unmotorable road. According to sources, at least 200 people belonging to 40 families live in the hamlet, which is bereft of any basic facilities, located at Pennagaram taluk in Dharmapuri district. More than 60 children from the village walk 10km (two-way) every day to reach the nearest school located on a nearby hill on muddy roads. The villagers, who are mostly labourers, have to climb down the hill by foot to reach towns to eke out a living.

The nearest public health centre (PHC) at Seengadu is located at least 2.5km from the foothill. An auto was waiting to rush the victim, R Kasturi, to the PHC but she died on the way, sources said. A video showing villagers carrying a girl on a doli through rugged terrain went viral on social media on Thursday.

The residents shared the video to draw attention to their situation and urge authorities to take action. The villagers are seen struggling to navigate the steep path in a bid to seek medical help for the girl.

Speaking to TNIE, A Pasuvaraj, a local resident, said, "We did everything we could to save her, but she died before we could reach the bottom of the hill. It takes more than an hour to trek down, and it takes even longer if someone has to be carried on a doli." He added that the girl was picking greens with her sisters when a snake bit her.

WORLD MUST HELP ISRAEL AND PALESTINE RESOLVE ISSUES FOR LASTING PEACE

THE ceasefire deal brokered by the US and France between Israel and Hezbollah is a welcome step towards de-escalation in West Asia. As per the 13-point agreement between the governments of Israel and Lebanon, Israel will not carry out any offensive military operations against Lebanese targets, including civilian, military or other state targets. On its part, the Lebanese government will prevent Hezbollah and other armed groups from carrying out operations against Israel. Lebanon is expected to ensure the end of Hezbollah's armed presence in the nation's south within 60 days, and Israel will withdraw its army from the area within the same period. The deal has also left an escape hatch for either side to retaliate in "self defence"—a clause that is already being tested. The ceasefire has brought only a temporary respite for the people on the two sides. It's not a solution.

While the effort is commendable, the international community needs to focus on resolving the Israel-Palestine conflict that lies at the heart of the trouble in West Asia. It has been one of the longest-simmering disputes that not only divides the local populations, but reveals the faultlines of global allegiances as well. At its core lie deep-rooted grievances and historical injustices. The creation of the state of Israel in 1948 and the subsequent displacement of hundreds of thousands of Palestinians re-energised a cycle of violence and competing national aspirations that had started long before.

Today, after several wars in the region, the situation is even more complex. Israel, with its technological prowess and military strength, is a regional power, but faces constant security challenges. It's disheartening to reiterate on the UN Day of Solidarity with the Palestinian People, November 29, that after facing years of occupation they remains stateless with no hope for self-determination in the near future. To achieve lasting peace, a solution rooted in mutual respect, understanding and compromise must be found. It must address the legitimate aspirations and grievances of both Israelis and Palestinians. The international community must not only find a solution, but play a constructive role as an active mediator and guarantor of any agreement. This means holding both sides accountable for their actions, whether through diplomatic pressure, sanctions or incentives. The road to peace is challenging, but the journey must begin now.

GOVT MUST ALLAY FEARS ON ORGAN DONATION

KERALA, which used to be a topper in cadaver organ donation along with Tamil Nadu, is seeing a sharp decline in such gifts of life. This has resulted in a longer waits for patients in dire need of transplants. The average waiting time for patients with critical illness has crossed 10 years, as per the latest statistics. Only 10 organ donations have been recorded this year in Kerala, marking a six-year low; the figure was 76 a decade back. There are 2,462 patients currently on the waiting list in the state. Around 2,000 registered patients have died between 2012 and 2023 while awaiting a suitable organ. More alarming is the fact that the rate of new registrations for receiving organs, too, has slowed as the likelihood of donation has grown slimmer. All these have pushed the government-regulated cadaver organ transplant programme into a crisis.

What is surprising is that though the cadaver organ transplant programme has slowed, living-donor transplants are continuing apace. Each year, around 1,300 organ transplants (primarily kidney and liver) are carried out in the state, with cadaver donations accounting for just 1 percent of the total. While wealthier patients continue to secure organs from living donors, the deceased donor programme meant to aid the less fortunate is suffering. This leaves poorer patients at a severe disadvantage. Mrithasanjeevani, the deceased donor organ transplantation programme started in 2012, was running quite successfully till a few years back.

The main reason for the decrease is negative publicity—some of it intentional. Medical practitioners allege the role of an organ donation mafia deliberately vilifying cadaver donation. A few films that had organ donation as a central theme have contributed to the negative publicity, too. Frequent litigations and controversies have further impacted the programme as doctors have become reluctant to certify a patient brain dead. The state government must launch a mass campaign to clear the misperceptions surrounding cadaver organ donation. It must also allay the fears of doctors and bring in greater transparency in the certification of death to underline the genuineness of the process. If there is a will, the state that has a healthy network of dedicated coordinators at hospitals engaged in transplants, must be able to tide over this crunch.

QUICK TAKE

COURT OF LAST RESORT

IT sounds odd at a time Delhi's pollution is making global headlines, but it's true that had it not been for some landmark decisions by the Supreme Court, the city's air would have been even more unbreatheable today. The consequential decisions include shifting polluting industries out and forcing all public vehicles to use compressed natural gas. So the top court's decision on Thursday to keep monitoring closely the current response plan and look for a lasting solution in the long run is welcome. Unlike Beijing, ruled by an autocratic government that drastically reduced its pollution in a decade, we are a fractious democracy. But in this fight, we need a similar fixity of purpose.

The power of incumbency and local factors highlighted by the year-end elections should make us rethink the plan to hold simultaneous polls. There's a lesson for political dynasties too

A SEASON FOR ONE NATION, MANY ELECTIONS

MANDAR PARDIKAR

THE Indian voter has again asserted that the 'local' is central in electoral politics. One of the biggest lessons from the year-end polls and bypolls was about incumbency—a party or candidate loses an election more than someone else wins it. This was true across the board: ruling regimes held their own turfs.

In Maharashtra, the opposition Maha Vikas Aghadi and its three principal constituents lost, as did the BJP in Jharkhand in its attempts to make forays into the tribal heartland. The byelections, too, saw a concerted effort by those in the opposition to embarrass the ruling parties, but failed to strike a chord that would be heard around the country.

In Uttar Pradesh, the Samajwadi Party surrendered the momentum it had gained in the Lok Sabha polls to the BJP. The ruling coalition held its own in Bihar, too. Similarly, in the six seats in West Bengal, the BJP was not able to offer a reasonable challenge to the Trinamool Congress in spite of the many embarrassments for the ruling party since the Lok Sabha polls.

The sweep by the ruling Congress in the Karnataka byelections is another clear example of the opposition, the BJP-JDS alliance, not being able to hold the government to account. In deciding so, the state threw up some bigger questions for the future.

But first, let's set the context. The three seats fought for were in different regions of the state and held by three parties— the BJP, Congress and JDS. The byelections were triggered when the sitting MLAs moved to the Lok Sabha earlier this year. Two of those vacating their assembly seats were former chief ministers. Those nominated to contest the bypolls were close to the families of those stepping down—sons in two cases and the wife in the third. The grip of political dynasties across parties in Karnataka was there for all to see.

Now, given that bypolls are largely governed by factors unique to each seat, it may be a stretch for the Congress to conclude that it's a mandate for the ruling party. Any overconfidence, especially when the state government's term is nearing the half-way mark, would be counter-productive and politically naïve. Rather, it should be seen as an opportunity to invest time and attention on the bread-and-butter issues of governance—proper implementation of the five guarantees and mobilisation of fiscal resources.

On the other hand, the BJP's defeat in Shiggaon in Kittur and the inability of the JDS to hold on to Channapatna in Old Mysore have serious implications for the alliance, as well as the internal dynamics of the two parties.

In Channapatna, the JDS was unable to ensure the victory of a key member of the Gowda family—Nikhil Gowda, son of Union minister H D Kumaraswamy, who had vacated the seat. This is Nikhil's third successive electoral defeat.

A post-poll survey done by Lokniti CSDS along with the Public Policy Centre of the NM Institute of Technology in Bengaluru indicated what contributed to the result.

The BJP has a very small vote base in this constituency. Half that base voted for the Congress because of C P Yogeshwara, the BJP leader who moved to the Congress after being denied the ticket. Secondly, two-thirds of the voters saw it as a proxy battle between D K Shivakumar and H D Kumaraswamy—their old rivalry once again came to the fore.

Thirdly, though a majority of the Vokkaliga votes went to the JDS, a significant chunk also went to the Congress candidate. The Congress also consolidated the non-Vokkaliga OBCs, and the Dalit, tribal as well as the crucial Muslim vote. Finally, the survey also indicated a strong support for the ruling party on account of the five guarantees being implemented.

Internal contradictions within the state BJP affected the other two outcomes. The open rebellion by senior leaders against the state leadership has created quite a few political ripples, as was evident in both Shiggaon and Sandur. The BJP campaign was not as focused and energetic as it normally is. Leaders appeared to have used these byelections to settle political scores and protect their small zones of control.

An element of complacency in Shiggaon—that it's the turf of former Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai—also queered the pitch for the BJP.

Sandur in central Karnataka has been a Congress bastion and never been won by the BJP. So, the BJP's spirited fight here was not strong enough to oust the entrenched party. However, the seat saw the Congress winning by the smallest margin of the state's three seats.

These byelections raise questions about the health of the Karnataka BJP unit, a badly divided house. At the winter session of the assembly, one will look closely at the capacity of the BJP legislative party to work together and craft a strategy to challenge the government. One has not seen it in the previous sessions. The ruling party has got away mildly for many a political misstep.

Questions are also being raised about the future of the BJP-JDS alliance. Even though the BJP got most of the Lok Sabha seats from Karnataka, there is a growing perception that it is the JDS minister Kumaraswamy who has a greater say at the Centre from among the state leaders. If this perception were to grow, it would raise serious questions on the ability of the BJP to take on the Congress in the state.

For the JDS, the setback should prod it to relook at its strategy of giving primacy to one family at the cost of loyal party workers. The party would also need to assess if its vote base is being gradually eroded, especially in the Old Mysore region and whether the BJP is a key beneficiary of that shift.

Looking back at all of 2024, we can surely say the year has seen some tantalising electoral contests. What was decidedly certain about each verdict was its mindboggling uncertainty. Maybe it's a cue to rethink the logic of one nation, one election.

WIKI & THE RIGHT TO CREATE KNOWLEDGE

SRIRAM VENKATAVARADAN

SAAI SUDHARSAN SATHIYAMOORTHY

Advocates, Madras High Court

HUMANS have an innate right not only to acquire information but also to contribute to its creation. People fulfil their natural function as rational, social beings by engaging in meaningful pursuits and exercising their intellect through contributions to communal knowledge. The basic essence of human intellectual freedom would encompass not only the right to obtain, assimilate and regurgitate information provided but also the vital right to generate and contribute to it.

However, throughout history, the flow of information has not always been from the bottom up, but more like a trickle-down. Information has been carefully distributed under close control by institutions, governments, intellectual elites, media conglomerates, and censorship. These institutions have been gatekeepers, selectively choosing which viewpoints are important, even while they have been vital in the preservation and dissemination of knowledge.

People and communities, for their part, have often discovered ways to share their stories and produce information in their own ways outside institutional limitations. From the times of Socrates and the Greek agora, where citizens gathered to share and debate ideas, and those of Adi Shankarachārya and his theological debates to those of French cafés, we have always cultivated and shared knowledge as a community.

Pertinently, the foundation of this right is Article 19(1)(a) of the Constitution, which guarantees freedom of speech and expression. Its broad interpretation by the Supreme Court repeatedly maintained that it includes not only the right to speak but also the right to know, be informed, and—most importantly—take part in discourse. It is evident that this guarantee includes the right to contribute to collective knowledge when we consider this in the context of contemporary knowledge generation.

Another important pillar is the Preamble's commitment to ensure "liberty of thought, expression, belief, faith, and worship". The moral imperative for recognising this becomes even clearer when we consider its denial. When we treat knowledge as something to be received rather than collaboratively created, we perpetuate what Miranda Fricker describes as "epistemic injustice"—the systematic exclusion of groups from production of knowledge.

On the other hand, when individuals are empowered to contribute to human knowledge, we approach what Jürgen Habermas termed the 'ideal speech situation', wherein truth arises from free and equitable debate governed by basic, implied rules rather than authority. Obviously, this democratisation of knowledge raises questions about truth, authority and collective responsibility, especially in the time of modern internet.

The internet—and particularly websites like Wikipedia, Project Galactic Guide, Fanlore and Nupedia—has presented the radical proposition that knowledge generation and curation needs to be free and readily available, apart from being communal.

WIKIMEDIA COMMONS

> Throughout history, information has been distributed under the close control of a few. Wikipedia's idea of a global community of contributors challenged that hierarchy. It reminds us of Royal Society's motto 'Nullius in verba', take nobody's word for it, a succinct expression of empirical scepticism

The emergence of such platforms challenges the paternalistic view of knowledge that has functioned on an underlying moral presumption: information needs conscientious guardians. The platforms' basic tenet—anybody can easily create and edit—represents a shift in attitude towards knowledge creation. Now everyone has a right to participate in the development of knowledge as well as quickly access it.

Let us consider the implications of Wikipedia's editing process. During the discussion on an article's substance, contributors engage in free and equitable debate, wherein the truth emerges not from authority but dialogue among equals. The 'talk' sections further serve as a virtual agora, where arguments and evidence rather than credentials or prestige determine the truth. This embodies a grounded perspective on the human potential, suggesting ordinary individuals can engage in intellectual discussions and reach reliable conclusions when provided with appropriate materials.

But, as the Delhi High Court has sought to recently probe in the proceedings initiated by Asian News International, can platforms such as Wikipedia be considered encyclopaedias? It is true that unlike the common view that asserts people act out of self-interest, this model goes against that idea. When thousands of people gather to spend countless hours improving articles for no monetary consideration, they exhibit a behaviour hard for standard models to explain. This democratic approach to knowledge creation may encounter criticism from individuals who argue it undermines truth in favour of popular sentiment.

Critics frequently cite Wikipedia's susceptibility to prejudice and misuse as evidence that it fails to meet encyclopaedic criteria. This fails to consider the prompt resolution associated with such issues. While absolute truth is unattainable, Wikipedia's criteria for neutrality and verifiability suggest a more nuanced stance, asserting we might achieve something closer to truth through comprehensive documentation and reasoned discourse.

Its approach reminds us of the Royal Society's motto 'Nullius in verba'—take nobody's word for it. The motto suggests the validity of truth assertions should be assessed based on intrinsic merit than origin. Bringing this notion to the creation of encyclopaedias transforms it from an ideal into practical methodology. Regardless of source, every fact is subject to verification and every assertion can be scrutinised.

Look at how the venerable Encyclopaedia Britannica worked: a small group of experts wrote authoritative treatises that would not change until the next edition came out. This seemed like the only way to assure accuracy—till it was turned on its head by Wikipedia and its cohort.

Disruption of House a malady: Dhankhar

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

BOTH houses of Parliament were stalled on Thursday for the third straight day amid protests by Opposition members demanding a discussion on the US indictment of Gautam Adani and Sambhal violence.

As soon as the Lok Sabha met, Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, newly elected MP from Wayanad, took oath holding a copy of the Constitution. Congress' Ravindra Vasantrao Chavan, who won Nanded in Maharashtra, also took oath.

Before Speaker Om Birla adjourned the House for the day, it passed a motion moved by Waqf JPC chairman Jagdambika Pal, seeking an extension of the tenure of the panel to submit the report until the last date of the Budget session in 2025.

The Rajya Sabha proceedings were disrupted within minutes after it met at noon, following one adjournment shortly after 11 am. In a strongly worded message, Chairman Jagdeep Dhankhar warned the members that parliamentary disruption was not a remedy but a malady which weakened the foundation of India's democracy.

"The chamber is more than just a house of debate. It is from where our national spirit has to echo," he said. "Parliamentary disruption is not a remedy but a malady that weakens the very foundation of our democracy. It slides Parliament into irrelevance. The sanctity of this House demands debate, not discord; dialogue, not disruption," Dhankhar said as the opposition members continued to shout slogans.

Recalling that Wednesday marked a historic milestone — the beginning of the final quarter-century before India's Constitution turned 100 -- Dhankhar said the House members missed the opportunity to engage in productive dialogue.

"This was a moment for our House of Elders, guided by the spirit of nationalism, to send a powerful message of hope to 1.4 billion Indians, reaffirming our commitment to their dreams and journey towards Viksit Bharat at 2047," he said.

Responding to a query by Congress MP Jairam Ramesh on "how to persuade the chair" to allow their notices, Dhankar said, "We persuade the chair historically only by exhibiting the highest standard of conformance to the rules...the ruling of the chair must evoke deference and not a challenge."

RAVINDRA CHAVAN TAKES OATH IN PARLIAMENT

Congress leader Ravindra Chavan, who won the recent Nanded bypoll, took oath in the name of God in Parliament on Thursday. The Nanded bypoll was necessitated by the death of Congress MP Vasantrao Chavan on August 26. Ravindra Chavan, who was seen losing to BJP's Santukrao Hambarde, finally won with a margin of 1,457 votes after the votes were recounted in Nanded. Chavan received a total number of 5,86,788 votes while his main competitor Santuk Hambarde got 5,85,331. The Nanded Lok Sabha bypoll witnessed a voter turnout of 67.81%, marking a 7% increase compared to the general elections earlier this year. Both the camps were optimistic that the higher turnout could favour them, but Chavan eventually won.

JPC on Waqf Bill gets extension till Budget session

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE government will not introduce the contentious Waqf Amendment Bill in the winter session of Parliament, as the Lok Sabha on Thursday adopted the motion to extend the term of the Joint Parliamentary Committee on the Bill.

The committee is now scheduled to present its report on the last day of the Budget Session next year. The government had listed Waqf Bill for passage during the ongoing Parliament session, which concludes in December 20.

According to JPC chairman Jagdambika Pal, at the meeting held by the committee on Wednesday, it was discussed that there are around six states where there is a dispute between the state government and Waqf Board on the ownership of properties. The JPC decided to get an extension considering these disputes.

"The Speaker had given a mandate to the JPC, but at the meeting held yesterday, it was said that there are certain properties where there is a dispute between the state government and Waqf Board, with the board claiming certain properties as theirs. There are six such states, we had asked for a reply from them but we haven't gotten a reply," he told media.

The Opposition members in the JPC have been persistent with their demand for a reasonable extension of the panel's tenure to allow substantive deliberations on the expansive legislation.

"Now we have decided to present our findings on the last day of the 2025 budget session," said Pal.

At Wednesday's meeting, BJP MPs Nishikant Dubey and Aparajita Sarangi also sought more time for the JPC, after the Opposition staged a walkout, alleging that the chairman was keen to close proceedings by the November 29 deadline in a hurry. They claimed that the proceedings have become a mockery.

The Opposition members claimed that legal exercise done by the government through the Bill is a surreptitious attempt to mitigate the earlier legislations made by the Parliament.

Is this how you encourage sportspersons, asks SC

SUCHITRA K MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday slammed the Himachal Pradesh government for denying employment to Pooja Thakur, an Asian Games gold medallist, under the sports quota, asking "this is how you (state govt) encourage sportspersons?

Thakur won the gold medal in kabaddi during the Asian Games held at Incheon, South Korea in 2014. She was also awarded a silver medal in the 2015 National Games.

A bench of the apex comprising Justices Abhay S Oka and Augustine George Masih took exception of the fact that a gold medallist was made to run from pillar to post for years seeking employment.

"This is how you encourage sports persons? Somebody won a gold medal in the Asian games of 2014; your chief minister should have a pragmatic approach... This is the approach of the state while dealing with the sports persons," the bench observed.

On Thursday, the SC dismissed the appeal filed by the Himachal government against her appointment to the post of excise and taxation officer effective from the date of her application to the CM in July 2015.

The state government in its appeal challenged a 2023 high court division bench order, which upheld a single judge's order directing Thakur's appointment to the post.

Earlier, the division bench had refused to interfere with the order of the single judge who directed the authorities to offer her appointment in the excise and taxation department, from the date of her application to the then chief minister. The High Court held she was entitled to all the consequential benefits from such dates, including seniority.

The HC noted that the state authorities were not happy over Thakur reportedly approaching them for her appointment to a class-I post by filing two original applications and they were annoyed by it.

"It is highly unreasonable on the part of the state to deny the benefit granted by the single judge to the respondent of being appointed to the post of excise and taxation officer from the date she submitted application to the then chief minister in July 2015," the HC said.

Later on, the apex court also expressed its displeasure on state govt and dismissed the appeal of the state govt.

Thakur applied for the job as a deputy superintendent of police, a Class 1 post, in 2015 under the 3% reservation policy for distinguished sportspersons. But her case was overlooked while other sportspersons, including a male kabaddi player, a woman cricketer and a shooter were recruited under the same quota.

Baghel's deputy secy's bail extended

The apex court on Thursday extended the interim bail granted to former Chhattisgarh chief minister Bhupesh Baghel's deputy secretary Saumya Chaurasia, who has been accused in a money laundering case linked to an alleged coal scam in the state. The court had granted her interim bail on September 25.

SC slams C'garh govt for firing woman sarpanch

SUCHITRA K MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court recently hauled up the Chhattisgarh authorities for removing a 27-year-old female sarpanch on "flimsy grounds" citing delays in completion of her work. It emphasised that the state government should set an example to promote women empowerment in rural areas.

Dubbing the action and behaviour of Chhattisgarh authorities a "colonial mindset", a two-judge bench of Justices Surya Kant and Ujjal Bhuyan directed that Sonam Lakra, the female sarpanch, be reinstated, besides directing the government to pay her ₹1 lakh for frivolous litigation and harassment.

"The authorities, with their colonial mindset, have regrettably failed to recognise the fundamental distinction between an elected public representative and a selected public servant. Invariably, elected representatives like the appellant are often treated as subordinates to bureaucrats compelled to comply with directives that serve to encroach upon their autonomy and impinge their accountability," the bench said.

Wanted LeT operative brought back from Rwanda; CBI, NIA work together

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

THE CBI in coordination with the National Investigation Agency (NIA) extradited Salman Rehman Khan — a member of Pakistan-based terror group Lashkar-e-Taiba (LeT) who was wanted in a terror case in India — from Rwanda through Interpol channels, officials said on Thursday.

Khan was facing an Interpol Red Notice for his alleged role in providing arms, ammunition and explosives for terrorist activities in Bengaluru.

In a statement, a CBI spokesperson said, "The Global Operations Centre of the agency has closely coordinated with the NIA and Interpol National Central Bureau in Kigali for the return to India from Rwanda of Salman Rehman Khan, wanted by the NIA for terror-related offences."

The NIA had lodged a case in 2023 related to criminal conspiracy to spread terror in Bengaluru, the officials said, adding that an FIR was also registered at Hebbal police station in Bengaluru.

Khan, who was previously imprisoned in a POCSO case (2018-22), had allegedly facilitated the collection and distribution of explosives for other terror accused after being recruited and radicalised during his incarceration by T Naseer, a life convict in a terror case, the NIA found in its probe.

Naseer had allegedly orchestrated the radicalisation and subsequent criminal activities to further LeT operations in the country besides plotting his escape en route to the court from the prison, it had alleged.

When the terror module was busted, Khan managed to give NIA the slip and fled the country. The anti-terror agency filed a charge sheet against him under stringent anti-terror law UAPA and the IPC and court declared him a fugitive.

"The CBI, on NIA's request, had got a Red Notice issued from Interpol on August 2, 2024. It was circulated to all law enforcement agencies globally to track the wanted criminal," the CBI statement read.

Radicalised in prison

Salman Rehman Khan was imprisoned in a POCSO case during 2018-22. The NIA probe found that during his incarceration, he met T Naseer, a life convict in a terror case. Naseer recruited and radicalised Khan, who later began facilitating the collection and distribution of explosives for other terror operatives belonging to LeT.

NIA raids 22 places in human trafficking case

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

THE National Investigation Agency (NIA) on Thursday conducted searches in 22 locations across six states as part of its probe into a case relating to human trafficking. The case pertains to syndicate members luring Indian youths to work at call centres overseas engaged in cyber fraud, officials said.

A senior NIA official said, "The premises of 17 suspects were searched in Bihar, UP, MP, Delhi, Maharashtra and Punjab as part of the agency's ongoing investigations in the case, linked with an organised syndicate engaged in trafficking of Indian youths to Southeast Asian countries."

The official said the suspects have been identified as sub-agents, associates and relatives of Cambodia-based Indian agents involved in trafficking Indian youths to Cambodia. He said these suspects "were involved in trafficking job-seekers to foreign countries and managing their financial transactions and other logistics".

UGC approves flexible study duration of UG, draft norms for feedback soon

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

SOON, Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) will be able to offer an option to undergraduate students to shorten or extend their study duration instead of the standard period of their degree programmes.

University Grants Commission chairman Prof M Jagadesh Kumar told this newspaper that through Accelerated Degree Programmes (ADP) or Extended Degree Programmes (EDP), students can now complete a 3-4 or 4-5 degree in reduced time by earning additional credits per semester.

He said the EDP enables an extended timeline with fewer credits per semester.

The UGC approved the standard operating procedures for HEIs to offer ADP and EDP in a meeting held on November 13.

"Under the ADP and EDP, students earn the same total credits as in the standard duration programme," he said.

The draft norms will now be put in the public domain for feedback from stakeholders.

The National Credit Framework introduces flexibility in higher education by allowing learners to complete undergraduate programmes through ADP or EDP in addition to standard-duration degrees, he said.

The HEIs will establish committees to evaluate students' eligibility for these programmes. These degrees will be equivalent to standard duration degrees for all employment and academic purposes.

According to the SOP, the institutions may earmark up to 10 per cent of the sanctioned intake for ADP. "The only change will be in the duration of the programme. Students shall have the option to choose ADP either at the end of the first semester or the second semester and not beyond that." he added.

"Students opting for the ADP will earn additional credits per semester starting from the second or third semester, depending on when they transition to the ADP," Kumar said.

Credits

In a 3-4 or 4-5 undergraduate programme, the duration may be extended up to a maximum of two semesters. Students can earn fewer credits in each semester. Based on the credit structure in the curriculum, the committee shall decide the minimum number of credits a student must earn in a semester in the EDP.

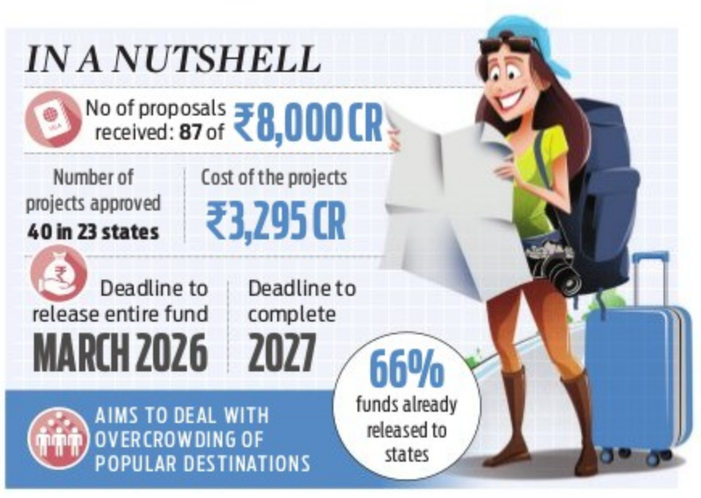
40 projects worth ₹3.2K cr for tourist sites okayed

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE Centre has approved 40 projects worth ₹3,295 crore for transformation of tourism places into iconic centres with the primary aim to decongest traditional and popular tourist sites under special assistance scheme for states, which was part of the budget announcement.

The projects have been chosen after detailed consultation with the states and guidelines formulated by the ministry of tourism.

All state governments participated in the consultation except West Bengal. The ministry had received 87 project proposals worth about ₹8,000 crore. Briefing about the development, union tourism and culture minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat on Thursday said that the focus of the entire exercise — selecting the desination — was to tap future potential of a site and invite private investment for the growth of local economy and creation of employment opportunities.



"Based on the guidelines, 40 projects were shortlisted and submitted to the finance ministry. We have got sanction. Under the scheme, a long-term loan — a kind of soft grant — will be provided to the states for 50 years. It will not impact their borrowing capacity and doesn't reflect in their debt list," said Shekhawat.

Some of the selected destinations are lesser known tourist sites such as Adventure and Eco Retreat, Pasighat (Arunachal Pradesh), beautification of Rang Ghar, Sivasagar (Assam), development of Matsyagandha Lake, Saharsa (Bihar), proposed townsquare, Porvorim (Goa), Orchha (Madhya Pradesh), Underwater Museum, Sindhudurg (Maharashtra), Mawkhanu, Shillong (Meghalaya), and development of Bateshwar, Agra (UP).

The land for the projects will be provided by the state governments and implementation will also be their responsibility. They will make arrangements for operation and management of the infrastructure after completion of the projects.

The ministry of tourism will monitor the progress. The first installment of 66 per cent of the sanctioned allocation has already been released by the department of expenditure to the states. The remaining fund will be released before March 2026. The states have been given a two-year deadline to complete the projects.

"We have meetings with the states in groups region-wise in which seven-eight states participated. The meetings went on for about eight hours. We heard them. This had happened for the first time. We do mentorship and guide states in preparations of proposals. We provided consultants. After evaluation, we selected projects worth ₹3,295 crore based on criteria, with a futuristic approach," said the minister.

TEA TALK

As part of the 4th Folk Tea Festival in Biswanath district, a conclave will be held on Friday to discuss critical challenges facing Assam's tea industry, including climate change, rising temperatures, pest management, and income diversification.

Officials told to implement Mukhyamantri Maiyan Samman Yojana

Soren takes oath, calls spl House session from Dec 9

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

JHARKAHND Mukti Morcha (JMM) executive president Hemant Soren took oath as the 14th chief minister in a grand ceremony amid the presence of a galaxy of INDIA bloc leaders at Morhabadi ground in Ranchi on Thursday. The 49-year-old tribal leader was administered the oath of office by Governor Santosh Kumar Gangwar.

This is the fourth stint of the JMM leader as the chief minister of Jharkhand. Soren was elected from Barhait by defeating BJP's Gamliyel Hembrom in the recently held elections.

After taking oath, Soren held a cabinet meeting and decided to call the special session of the Assembly from December 9-12. JMM MLA Stephen Marandi was named Protem Speaker.

"Officials have been directed to give ₹2,500 to the bank accounts of women aged between 18 and 50 years under the Mukhyamantri Maiyan Samman Yojana. The proposal of initiating a legal action towards the recovery of ₹1.36 lakh crore from the Centre was also cleared," said Soren.

Soren alone took oath as his ally Congress has not yet finalised the names of its ministers to join the government. Earlier, it was being said that one minister each from the Congress and RJD quota will take oath along with him. Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge, LoP in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi, West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee and AAP leader Arvind Kejriwal were present at the oath ceremony.

After taking oath, Soren paid tribute to the statue of Bhagwa Birsa Munda before reaching the state secretariat building. Soren was accompanied by his wife and MLA Kalpana Soren.

Before his swearing-in, Soren shared a post on 'X', saying, "Today will be a historic day — a day that will further strengthen our collective struggle, the spirit of love and brotherhood, and the commitment of us Jharkhandis towards justice."

After Kedarnath win, BJP readies for local polls

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

INVIGORATED by the party's recent victory in the Kedarnath bypoll, the ruling BJP in Uttarakhand has accelerated preparations for the local body polls.

"The Kedarnath win has infused a new sense of enthusiasm within our ranks," said a party source. While the election dates are yet to be fixed, the BJP is keen on leveraging this momentum to boost its campaign.

Uttarakhand's Parliamentary Affairs Minister Prem Chand Agarwal said, "We want to hold the elections as soon as possible. They are likely to take place by the year end." He, however, said that the poll schedule will be announced only after the process to implement the ordinance related to OBC reservation is over.

Separately, Union home minister Amit Shah on Thursday addressed young officers at the 99th Foundation Course convocation ceremony of the Lal Bahadur Shastri National Academy of Administration in Mussoorie. Reminding them of their potential, Shah said, "The work done by young officers in the next 25 years towards building a developed and self-reliant India will contribute significantly to fulfilling the aspirations of our freedom fighters."

BJP govt renames 10 Gehlot schemes in 11 months in Raj

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

THE BJP-led government in Rajasthan has been actively rebranding schemes initiated during the tenure of former CM Ashok Gehlot. Over the past 11 months, the names of 10 prominent schemes have been changed, with reports indicating that more could follow.

Many of these schemes were originally named after members of the Gandhi family, prompting the Bhajan Lal Sharma administration to initiate renaming efforts after coming to power. One of the first changes was halting the 'Indira Smart Phone Scheme', which aimed to provide smartphones to 1.35 crore women. Renaming of the 'Mahatma Gandhi English Medium Schools' was also considered but was paused following protests and assembly debates.

Several key programmes have already been rebranded. The 'Chiranjeevi Swasthya Yojana' became the 'Mukhyamantri Ayushman Arogya Yojana', while the 'Indira Rasoi Yojana' was renamed as 'Annapurna Rasoi'. Other name changes include 'Indira Gandhi Urban Employment Guarantee Scheme' to 'Chief Minister Urban Employment Guarantee Scheme', 'Chief Minister Bal Gopal Scheme' to 'Panna Dhay Bal Gopal Scheme', 'Rajiv Gandhi Scholarship Scheme' to 'Swami Vivekanand Scholarship Scheme', 'Rajiv Gandhi Jal Swavalamban Scheme' to 'Chief Minister Jal Swavalamban Scheme', 'Chief Minister Senior Citizen Teerth Scheme' to 'Pandit Deendayal Upadhyaya Senior Citizen Scheme'. Additionally, three schemes under the 'Indira Mahila Shakti Program' were merged and renamed the 'Kalibai Bhil Sambal Yojana'.

While many of the renamed schemes previously honoured former PM Indira Gandhi, several programmes bearing names of prominent figures like Mahatma Gandhi, Pandit Nehru, Rajiv Gandhi, and Kasturba Gandhi remain unchanged. But insiders says these schemes may face rebranding.

NMDC strategic move for faster decision-making

To drive NMDC's vision 2030 of achieving a 100 million tone production capacity, the 'Transformation and Innovation' vertical was introduced in the Navratna organisation as a dedicated department to foster innovation, enhance adaptability and enable faster decision-making. The mining giant operates two iron-ore complexes in Dantewada (south Chhattisgarh). The move is expected to provide solutions to existing challenges and enable the nation's largest iron-ore enterprise to navigate the evolving ecosystem of the mining industry.

Constitution campaign on ahead of local polls

Ahead of urban bodies, three-tier panchayats polls likely in January-February next year, both the ruling BJP and the opposition Congress are trying to reach out to the masses through Constitution. The celebration to commemorate the 75 year of adoption of the Constitution opens up scope for both the rival parties alleging against each other of having acted against the letter and spirit of the Constitution. The BJP moves out to observe among the people under the campaign 'Hamara Samvidhan, Hamara Swabhimaan', while Congress has launched the statewide campaign 'Sanvidhan Raksha Abhiyaan' from November 26 to January 26, 2025.

Teenager raped inside ambulance in MP, 2 arrested

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

A 16-year-old girl was allegedly raped inside an ambulance in Mauganj district of Madhya Pradesh. The Janani Express ambulance in which the teenager was allegedly raped is operated by the state government under the PPP model to render emergency service to expectant mothers, sick infants and below poverty line families.

Rewa Range DIG Saket Pandey said of the four accused, two have been arrested. Mauganj ASP Anurag Pandey said the prime accused is a distant relative of the survivor. The incident took place on November 24 and the survivor and her family lodged police compalint the next day.

The survivor lives with her mother and at maternal grandparents' place in Mauganj. On November 24, her cousin sister asked her to accompany her in the ambulance, which was returning after attending to a patient. While the cousin got off from the ambulance midway, the survivor went ahead in the vehicle with the three men, as one of them was his distant relative. However, those in the ambulance took it to a desolate place where the distant relative raped her, while his others tood guard. She was abandoned from the vehicle near her place.

After 13-day shutdown, schools and colleges in Manipur to reopen today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

EDUCATIONAL institutions in Manipur will reopen on Friday after they remained closed for 13 days in the wake of violence even as the protesting Coordinating Committee on Manipur Integrity (COCOMI) locked the offices of state and Central governments defying curfew.

The state's directorate of education, schools, in an order said, "... normal classes will resume for all schools of the state — government, government-aided, private and central — from the 29th of November, (Friday) onwards. All Zonal Education Officers under the Department of Education-Schools are hereby directed to inform all concerned under your jurisdiction and take up necessary actions accordingly."

Another order issued by the higher & technical education department said, "... it is hereby ordered that all government educational institutions/government-aided colleges under Higher & Technical Education Department, including state universities, shall resume classes w.e.f 29.11.2024 (Friday)."

The state's home department took the decision after assessing the prevailing law and order situation.

The government had earlier ordered the closure of the institutions in Imphal valley and Jiribam district due to widespread protests against the recent killings of three women and three children.

The COCOMI had earlier announced a 48-hour shutdown of offices on Thursday and Friday, demanding a review of the Armed Forces (Special Powers) Act reimposed in six police station jurisdictions of Imphal Valley, actions against those responsible for the killing of the six in Jiribam, and declaring the armed group involved in the killings as a terror outfit.

Meanwhile, a joint search operation by the Army and the police has continued to locate a missing person.

Over 15L cases pending in Gujarat, but 535 judicial vacancies not filled

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

GUJARAT'S District and Subordinate Courts are grappling with a staggering backlog of 15.61 lakh pending cases, the Centre informed the Rajya Sabha on Thursday.

As of November 15, the pending cases include 3.5 lakh civil cases, and 12.11 lakh criminal cases. In addition, 50,128 cases remain pending in Family Courts as of September 30.

Compounding the issue, 535 judicial officer positions remain vacant in district and subordinate courts as of November 21, 2024.

In response to a question by Rajya Sabha MP Neeraj Shekhar, the Law Ministry revealed staggering details about pending cases in Gujarat's district and subordinate courts. As of November 15, the state recorded 15,61,196 pending cases, including 3,50,166 lakh civil and 12,11,030 criminal cases, while as of January 1, the state had a total backlog of 15,89,468 cases, comprising 3,72,162 civil and 12,17,306 criminal cases.

The government data reveals a decline in pending cases in the state's district and subordinate courts in 2024 compared to 2023. Civil case backlogs dropped from 3,77,382 in 2023 to 3,50,166 in 2024, marking a decrease of 27,216 cases. Similarly, criminal cases saw a significant reduction, dropping from 12,58,375 in 2023 to 12,11,030 in 2024, a dip of 47,345 cases.

Responding to another query in the Upper House, the Law Ministry provided insights into pending cases in family courts across the country. As of September 30, 2024, Gujarat has 50 operational family courts. In 2022, these courts registered 24,910 cases, increasing to 27,194 in 2023 and surging to 44,037 in 2024.

Case disposals also rose, with 26,557 cases resolved in 2022, a total of 30,084 in 2023, and 30,659 in 2024. Despite these efforts, pending cases have climbed significantly from 34,761 in 2022 to 31,954 in 2023, and a sharp rise to 50,128 in 2024.

The Centre informed the House that the state's district and subordinate courts face a shortage of judicial officers, with 535 positions vacant as of November 21, 2024.

Forces crack down on terror networks in Jammu

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

AFTER a series of terror strikes in the Jammu region, security forces have launched a massive crackdown against the overground workers (OGWs) of terrorist organisations to deny the outfits logistics support and prevent attacks.

Security agencies have formulated a plan to tackle terrorism in Jammu by going after the OGWs, said a top official involved in operations.

"OGWs are like eyes and ears of the terrorists. Without their support terrorists cannot move and carry out attacks," the security official said. "OGWs besides providing logistic support to terrorists help them in doing recce of possible targets. OGWs also assist terrorists in transporting weapons and moving from one place to another," the official added.

Police, CRPF personnel and army men in the last few days have carried out raids at multiple locations in Rajouri, Poonch, Udhampur and Kathua districts, where terror attacks took place recently.

"The operations are aimed at identifying, tracking, and apprehending OGWs and other terror suspects involved in providing support to terrorist outfits, including managing the logistics, recruitment, and facilitating the movement of arms, ammunition and funds," another security official said.

"The searches are being conducted at multiple locations including residential houses and hideouts based on specific intelligence inputs," the official said.

He said many OGWs and terror suspects have been arrested during the crackdown.

"Incriminating materials, including electronic devices, documents, unaccounted cash, weapons, and ammunition, were also recovered. The searches were carried out meticulously, with due care taken to avoid any collateral damage or inconvenience to innocent civilians," the official said.

Jammu ADGP Anand Jain said investigations would continue based on the material and information gathered during the raids and searches. "Further operations are planned to target the remaining elements attempting to disrupt peace in the region," he said, adding police would continue to conduct intelligence-based operations to dismantle terror modules.

Outfits are attempting to shift terrorism from Kashmir to the Jammu region. Over the last five years, terrorists have carried out multiple attacks on security forces in Poonch, Rajouri, Kathua, Reasi, Udhampur, Doda and Kishtwar.

Scores of security men, mostly army personnel, have been killed in the attacks. Many terrorists have been killed in encounters with security forces.

Meanwhile, police on Thursday attached properties of seven absconding terrorists in Kishtwar area in mountainous Doda district.

The seven terrorists, according to police, are currently operating from Pakistan-occupied Kashmir (PoK) and Pakistan. They are among 36 terrorists from Kishtwar who have been declared absconders by the NIA court, Doda. Of the 36, police had identified properties of seven for attachment as part of the legal proceedings.

Bear, cub electrocuted at sewage plant in Chamoli district, safety issues raised

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

A female bear and her cub died due to electrocution after coming into contact with the transformer of a sewage treatment plant (STP) in Uttarakhand's Chamoli district, officials said.

Forest officials said the STP under the Namami Gange project is situated in Vaitarani area of Gopeshwar town. On Wednesday, Namami Gange employees alerted forest officials about the electrocution of the two bears. Kedarnath divisional forest officer Tarun S, SDO Jugal Kishore Chauhan and other officials then arrived at the scene.

The dead bears were removed from the transformer using ropes. Two veterinarians conducted post-mortems on the animals before cremating them.

"The female bear was around six years old, and her cub was 11 months old," SDO Chauhan said. "The cub was found lying in front of the transformer, indicating that it was electrocuted first. When the mother came to save her cub, she also died due to electric shock," he said.

On July 19 last year, 16 people died due to electrocution at the same STP plant.

Safety measures at the Vaitarani plant remain insufficient though the administration has been conducting meetings, officials said.

Expressing concerns on wildlife safety, DFO Tarun said, "Wooden poles were installed around the transformer, and it was placed on the ground, which was not a foolproof mechanism implemented by the project."

He added, "We will inform higher authorities about the negligence of STP operators. Kedarnath area, rich in wildlife, requires special measures for protection. We will insist on implementation of foolproof mechanisms there." Calling for proactive measures, the DFO said, "We have suggested that government organisations conduct wildlife safety audits to prevent such incidents."

Executive engineer SK Srivastava of the water works department gave an update on safety measures following the electrocution incident in Chamoli. "After the last year's electrocution incident in Chamoli, all STPs have been secured. At the Vaitarni STP, wooden and iron angle barricades have been installed around the transformer. However, a bear and its cub managed to breach the barricades and reached the transformer, resulting in their electrocution," Srivastava said.

B'desh HC rejects plea to ban ISKCON

Issue does not warrant court's involvement, says two-judge bench

Supporters of Krishna Das Prabhu surround the van carrying him after court ordered his detention in Chattogram on Tuesday | AP

DHAKA

BANGLADESH High Court on Thursday rejected a petition seeking a ban on ISKCON's activities in the country, days after a lawyer was killed in a clash between security personnel and supporters of a Hindu leader, previously linked to the religious group.

A lawyer had sought a ban on the International Society for Krishna Consciousness (ISKCON) after placing some newspaper reports related to the organisation on Wednesday.

"The two-member High Court bench of Justice Farah Mahbub and Debashish Roy Chowdhury declined to ban the ISKCON activities in Bangladesh," a spokesman of the attorney general's office said.

He said the bench made the decision after the attorney general's office submitted a report on the action taken by the government regarding the death of assistant government prosecutor Saiful Islam Alif in the northeastern port city of Chattogram earlier this week.

Hindu leader Chinmoy Krishna Das Brahmachary, arrested earlier this week, was sent to jail by a Chattogram court on sedition charges, sparking a violent protest during which advocate Alif was killed. Chinmoy was earlier expelled from ISKCON.

"Right at this moment, the situation does not warrant the intervention of the (High) court as the State is carrying out its job (regarding the matter)," Justice Mahbub was quoted as saying by the spokesman.

The decision came a day after Attorney-General Mohammad Asaduzzaman urged the court not to take any decisions on the ISKCON issue as the government has started taking the required action.

Additional Attorney General Aneek R Haque and Deputy Attorney General Asad Uddin informed the bench that three separate cases have been filed in connection with the murder of the lawyer and ISKCON's activities, and 33 accused have been arrested in these cases.

The bench then hoped that the government would remain cautious about protecting the law and order situation and the lives and properties of the people of Bangladesh.

Meanwhile, ISKCON Bangladesh refuted allegations linking the organisation to the lawyer's killing, saying the claims were baseless.

"A series of false, fabricated, and malicious campaigns is being spearheaded targeting ISKCON Bangladesh, particularly in connection with recent events. These efforts are aimed at discrediting our organisation and creating societal unrest," general secretary of the organisation Charu Chandra Das Brahmachari said.

Speaking at a press conference at the organisation's head office, he said ISKCON Bangladesh was never involved in "communal or conflict-driven activities and will continue to promote unity and harmony". PTI

Hindu American groups seek sanction on B'desh

Washington: Condemning attacks on minorities in Bangladesh, several Hindu American groups have sought that US aid for the South Asian country be made contingent on its government taking measurable action to protect these populations. Vishva Hindu Parishad America (VHPA) president Ajay Shah said the news of Das' arrest, vandalism of Kali Mandir in Chittagong and the rising attacks on Hindus across Bangladesh are disconcerting. "Is this the human rights legacy the Biden administration wants to be remembered for," he asked.

Mobs storming courts worries Supreme Court

DHAKA

BANGLADESH's Chief Justice Dr Syed Refaat Ahmed on Thursday said untoward incidents in the country's apex and lower courts deeply concerned him after a lawyers' group tried to assault a Supreme Court judge in an open courtroom and another lawyer was killed in the past two days.

In a rare such statement, Ahmed said he was 'deeply concerned' about the recent incidents in the Supreme Court and events within judicial premises nationwide.

"Many problems have arisen at the courts in recent times. The Supreme Court is vigilant so that people can get services from the courts without any impediment," read the statement issued by his office.

On Wednesday, a group of lawyers stormed the courtroom and threw eggs at Justice Mohammad Ashraful Kamal as a hearing was underway, forcing him to abruptly end the session and leave with a fellow judge.

The lawyers alleged Kamal made "negative comments about late president Ziaur Rahman in a verdict" in 2016.

A protester in the courtroom said: 'We have tolerated you for several years."

"As a judge, you have no right to conduct proceedings if you still hold such biased views," the protesting lawyer said while another threw an egg at him.

In a near-simultaneous incident, another lawyers' group confined High Court Division's Registrar Munshi Moshiar Rahman to his office for some time and removed his nameplate from the office. PTI

Day 2 of ceasefire: Hezbollah facility hit by Israeli raid

JERUSALEM

THE Israeli military on Thursday said it hit a facility in southern Lebanon belonging to Iran-backed militant group Hezbollah, a day after a ceasefire between the group and Israel began.

"A short while ago, terrorist activity was identified in a facility used by Hezbollah to store mid-range rockets in southern Lebanon. The threat was thwarted by an (Israeli Air Force) aircraft," the military said in a statement.

"The (Israeli army) remains in southern Lebanon and acting to enforce violations of the ceasefire agreement," it added. The mayor of the town of Baysariyeh in southern Lebanon, Nazih Eid, said "a warplane launched a raid about an hour ago on the eastern edge of the town of Baysariyeh. They targeted a forested area not accessible to civilians".

The army earlier on Thursday said it fired at several suspects "arriving with vehicles to a number of areas in southern Lebanon, breaching the conditions of the ceasefire".

The Israeli military has also announced a nighttime curfew in south Lebanon, warning residents it is "strictly forbidden to move or travel south of the Litani River."

Meanwhile, Yemen's Houthi rebels will keep up their attacks on Israel, their leader said on Thursday, two days into a ceasefire in Israel's war with Hezbollah in Lebanon.

"The operations from the Yemeni front to support the Palestinian people with missiles and drones towards the Israeli enemy are continuing," Abdulmalik Al-Huthi said on the rebels' Al-Masirah TV channel. Houthis have periodically fired drones and missiles at Israel since the outbreak of Gaza war. AFP

Aus Senate passes rules on social media ban for teens

MELBOURNE

AUSTRALIAN lawmakers passed landmark rules to ban under 16s from social media on Thursday, approving one of the world's toughest crackdowns on popular sites like Facebook, Instagram and X.

The legislation ordering social media firms to take "reasonable steps" to prevent young teens from having accounts was passed in the Senate with 34 votes in favour and 19 against.

The firms – who face fines of up to $32.5 million) for failing to comply –have described the laws as "vague", "problematic" and "rushed".

The new rules will now return to the lower house – where lawmakers already backed the bill on Wednesday – for one final approval before it is all but certain to become law.

Speaking during the Senate debate, Greens politician Sarah Hanson-Young said the ban would not "make social media safer for young people".

She said it was "devastating" that young people were "finding themselves addicted to these dangerous algorithms".

Centre-left Prime Minister Anthony Albanese, eyeing an election early next year, has enthusiastically championed the new rules and rallied Aussie parents to get behind it.

In the run up to the vote, he painted social media as "a platform for peer pressure, a driver of anxiety, a vehicle for scammers and, worst of all, a tool for online predators".

He wanted young Australians "off their phones and onto the footy and cricket field, the tennis and netball courts, in the swimming pool".

But young social media users, like 12-year-old Angus Lydom, are not impressed.

"I'd like to keep using it. And it'll be a weird feeling to not have it, and be able to talk to all my friends at home," he said. AFP

Putin apologises to Angela Merkel

Astana: Russian President Vladimir Putin apologised to former German chancellor Angela Merkel on Thursday, saying he did not mean to scare her when he brought his pet Labrador to a meeting with her in 2007. Merkel, who has a well-documented fear of the animals, recalled the tense encounter in her memoir released on Tuesday, accusing Putin of inviting the pet and taking glee in her discomfort.

12 killed in torrential rains in Sri Lanka

Colombo: Sri Lankan rescuers on Thursday recovered the drowned corpses of six children, taking the number killed in torrential rains to 12, as a powerful but slow-moving storm headed towards India. More than 3,35,000 people in Sri Lanka have been forced to flee after their homes were flooded, Colombo's Disaster Management Centre said. Nearly 100 homes had been completely destroyed.

French govt warns of storm as no-confidence looms

Paris: France's minority government may be on its last legs as opposition lawmakers moved this week toward a no-confidence vote. In a last-ditch effort to save themselves, Cabinet members warned of domestic and international turmoil if the government is toppled. Prime Minister Michel Barnier acknowledged his government's fragile position over a key budget vote. The budget bill for next year must be passed by December 21. If a no-confidence vote passes in parliament, there will be a big storm and turbulence on the financial markets, Barnier said.

After new tariff threat, Mexico prez, Trump talk migration

WEST PALM BEACH

PRESIDENT-elect Donald Trump declared a win on stopping illegal immigration through Mexico on Wednesday after talking with that country's leader. But Mexican President Claudia Sheinbaum suggested Mexico was already doing its part and had no interest in closing its borders.

The two spoke just days after Trump threatened to impose sweeping new tariffs on Canada and Mexico as part of his effort to crack down on illegal immigration and drugs.

Trump said Sheinbaum "agreed to stop Migration through Mexico." Sheinbaum indicated separately on social media that she told Trump that Mexico is already "taking care of" migrant caravans, calling it an "excellent conversation." "We reiterate that Mexico's position is not to close borders but to build bridges between governments and between peoples," Sheinbaum added.

While the state of the proposed tariffs remained unclear, Trump said in a post that this was "effectively closing our Southern Border." He called it a "very productive conversation." The exchange between the two leaders appeared to confirm for Trump the value of threatening to disrupt trade with import taxes. His initial social media post moved financial markets and gave him a response he was quick to describe as a win.

Sheinbaum wrote on social media that the leaders "discussed Mexico's strategy on migration issues, and I told him the caravans are not reaching the northern (US) border, because Mexico is taking care of them." AP

Xi Jinping's close ally Admiral Miao suspended

BEIJING

A top Chinese military official has been dismissed while an investigation into "serious violations of discipline" takes place, Beijing said on Thursday, the latest senior figure to fall in a sweeping crackdown on graft in the country's armed forces. The ruling Communist Party has "decided to suspend Miao Hua from duty pending investigation", Wu Qian, a spokesman for Beijing's defence ministry, told a press briefing.

Wu did not provide further details about the charges against Miao, an admiral and a member of Beijing's powerful Central Military Commission (CMC). But "serious violations of discipline" are commonly used by authorities in China as a euphemism for corruption.

Miao sat on the CMC alongside five other men -- including President Xi Jinping at the top -- and headed its most important office, the Political Work Department.

Miao has been described as a "close ally" of Xi and a "trusted interlocutor" between the military and the party by Lyle Morris, a senior fellow at the Asia Society.

Beijing has deepened a crackdown on alleged graft in the armed forces over the past year, with Xi this month ordering the military to stamp out corruption and strengthen its "war-preparedness". The investigation into Miao is "in line with Xi's added scrutiny on the armed forces" said Chong Ja Ian, an associate professor of political science at the National University of Singapore. AFP

The broader market outperformed the frontline indices as foreign institutional investors (FIIs) and domestic investors shifted focus to undervalued opportunities

Vinod Nair of Geojit Financial Services

THE domestic equity markets witnessed a sharp sell-off on Thursday, with the benchmark indices BSE Sensex and NSE Nifty 50, declining by nearly 1.5% each.

The decline was primarily driven by heavy selling in IT stocks amid uncertainty over US interest rate cuts and escalating geopolitical tensions following Russia's renewed attacks on Ukraine's energy infrastructure.

The BSE Sensex plunged 1,190.34 points, or 1.48%, to close at 79,043.74, while the NSE Nifty dropped 360.70 points, or 1.49%, to settle at 23,914.20.

"Domestic markets cooled off after a strong start earlier this week. The overnight sell-off in the United States, spurred by uncertainties over the Federal Reserve's rate-cut trajectory and rising geopolitical tensions, triggered a correction in IT and consumer discretionary stocks," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services.

Inflation in the United States increased by 2.3% year-on-year in October, driven by higher service prices.

This has dampened expectations of a rate cut in December, as investors fear the Federal Reserve might adopt a cautious approach.

The Nifty IT index dropped 2.4%, with major stock Infosys declining by over 3%. Other IT heavyweights, including Tata Consultancy Services, Wipro, HCL Technologies, and Tech Mahindra, fell between 1.5% and 2.5%.

Analysts noted that Indian IT companies' substantial exposure to the U.S. makes them highly sensitive to economic developments in the world's largest economy.

Manish Bhandari, CEO and Portfolio Manager at Vallum Capital Advisors, commented, "The market is factoring in solid growth but persistent inflation, which could delay the Federal Reserve's rate cuts despite prior signals.

However, the recent cooling of bond yields by 85 basis points over three days suggests optimism that inflation may ease in the near term."

Bhandari remained positive on the IT sector, highlighting its prospects amidst a US manufacturing resurgence and opportunities for Indian IT companies to capitalise on this growth.

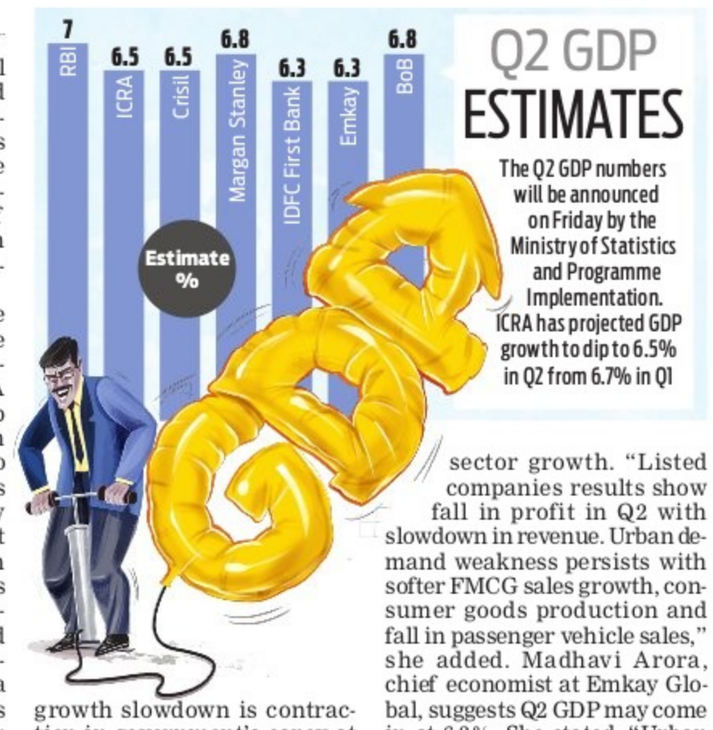
The broader market also faced challenges. The Nifty Auto index declined by 1.7%, while the Nifty Financial Services and Nifty Private Bank indices each slipped 1%.

On the other hand, the Nifty Smallcap 100 and Nifty Midcap 100 indices closed with minor gains, reflecting investor interest in undervalued stocks.

"The broader market outperformed the frontline indices as foreign institutional investors (FIIs) and domestic investors shifted focus to undervalued opportunities," added Nair.

Experts see GDP growth below 6.5% in second quarter

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi



AHEAD of the release of official GDP numbers for the second quarter of FY25, economic analysts present varied estimates ranging from 6.2% to 6.9%. The outlook reflects contrasting indicators from various sectors of the economy, highlighting both structural challenges and potential growth drivers.

The Q2 GDP numbers will be announced on Friday by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation. ICRA has projected GDP growth to dip to 6.5% in Q2 from 6.7% in Q1FY25. It attributes the drop to heavy rains and weak margins offsetting buoyancy injected by turnaround in government capex and healthy trends in kharif sowing. "Several sectors (in Q2) faced headwinds on account of rainfall, which affected mining activity, electricity demand and retail footfalls and a fall in goods exports. Margins appear to have weakened for corporates in various sectors in Q2. As a result, we project slight dip in India's GVA and GDP growth in Q2FY25 to 6.6% and 6.5%, respectively," says Aditi Nayar, chief economist, head-research & outreach, ICRA.

DK Srivastava from EY raises concerns about CPI inflation rate, which stood at 6.2% in October, alongside an expected lower GDP growth of 6.5% for Q2. He said, "Main reason for growth slowdown is contraction in government's capex at (-)15.4% during April-September 2024." Srivastava advocates for a prioritisation of fiscal policy actions, stating, "Accelerated government investment expenditure should be given the highest priority while monetary policy action may be delayed beyond December 2024."

Gaura Sen Gupta, chief economist, IDFC First Bank, pegs Q2 GDP growth at 6.2% due to moderation in manufacturing sector growth. "Listed companies results show fall in profit in Q2 with slowdown in revenue. Urban demand weakness persists with softer FMCG sales growth, consumer goods production and fall in passenger vehicle sales," she added. Madhavi Arora, chief economist at Emkay Global, suggests Q2 GDP may come in at 6.3%. She stated, "Urban wage bill growth has been declining on real basis for over one-and-a-half years and currently is well below five-year pre-COVID average of 9%. The fall in income capacity of urban sector has hit consumption profile, albeit with a lag." Madan Sabnavis, chief economist with Bank of Baroda, projects GDP growth of 6.8% to 6.9% for Q2FY25, buoyed by strong performance in the services sector.

AI facing delays in Boeing aircraft deliveries: CEO Campbell Wilson

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

We had hoped to start retrofit of 787s and 777s by now. Unfortunately, the global supply chains in some areas are still recovering and seats in particular are a challenge

Campbell Wilson, CEO and MD

AIR INDIA CEO and MD Campbell Wilson said on Wednesday that the airline is experiencing delays in receiving aircraft deliveries from Boeing, largely due to a strike at the aircraft manufacturer's U.S. factory.

Wilson revealed that the delivery of 50 "white tail" aircraft, initially expected to be completed by December this year, has been pushed to June 2025. "50 white tail aircraft, all of them were to come by December this year... They will stretch up to June next year and that in itself has a little bit of impact...," Wilson said, adding that the two factors - a slowdown in production by Boeing and the strike – are likely to have contributed to the delay.

"It is not clear for how long the impact will be. Six months is reasonable for some aircraft...," he said.

Out of the total 50 white-tail Boeing 737 MAX aircraft, at least 35 have joined Air India's fleet. These planes are being operated by Air India Express. Generally, white-tail planes are those that were originally manufactured for a particular airline and later taken by another airline. Currently, the Air India Group operates a fleet of around 300 aircraft. It is expected to add 100 new planes between 2026 and 2027.

However, Wilson noted that deliveries in 2025 will be slower compared to 2024. The CEO also highlighted the importance of domestic and short-haul international markets for Air India's growth in 2025, as the airline expands its narrow-body fleet while sending its older wide-body aircraft for retrofitting. "We had hoped to start retrofit of 787s and 777s by now. Unfortunately, the global supply chains in some areas are still recovering and seats in particular are a challenge... Once it (retrofit) starts in 2025, we will be doing 3-4 aircraft every month until the full legacy 40 wide-body aircraft are completed," Wilson said.

"So, we took the view that there is an opportunity, appetite for growth in the market and that we should take it. On balance, we have taken millions of people on these aircraft. People are happy that the service exists," he noted.

IHC, Sri Lanka Port Authority, Tanzania back Adani Group

PTI @ New Delhi

ABU DHABI'S International Holding Company (IHC), a sovereign fund that manages $100 billion assets, has reaffirmed its support to Adani Group, saying its outlook on investments in the group remains unchanged despite the US indictment of the conglomerate's founder chairman Gautam Adani.

"Our partnership with the Adani Group reflects our confidence in their contributions to the green energy and sustainability sectors," IHC, one of Adani group's foreign investors, said in a statement.

"As with our investments, our team continues to evaluate relevant information and developments. At this time, our outlook on these investments remains unchanged." IHC had, in April 2022, invested $500 million each in renewables arm Adani Green Energy and Adani Transmission and $1 billion in the group's flagship Adani Enterprises. Later, it sold its 1.26% stake in AGEL and 1.41% in ATL, now called Adani Energy Solutions, but hiked its stake in Adani Enterprises to over 5%.

The IHC statement comes soon after Adani group said its chairman and aides have not been charged under the US Foreign Corrupt Practices Act but faced three other charges including securities and wire fraud punishable with monetary fines. The US Department of Justice's indictment filed in a New York Court last week doesn't mention Gautam Adani, his nephew Sagar or Vneet Jaain in any count related to conspiracy to violate the FCPA, AGEL - the firm at the heart of allegation of $265 million bribes allegedly being paid to Indian officials to secure solar power sale contracts.

Godrej Enterprises Group sees revenue in excess of ₹20,000 crore by 2032

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

GODREJ Enterprises Group (GEG), new entity carved out of the 127-year-old group after the brothers Adi and Jamshyd amicably divided the group this April, expects its revenue crossing ₹20,000 crore by the turn of 2032 from current ₹16,000 crore. The group has also ruled out taking any of its many companies public anytime soon.

The diversified GEG has 14 operating units across 10 sectors including consumer durables, furniture, locks & safety vaults, aerospace, green power, and battery storage, among others. Across its diversified businesses, the group touches over 1 billion customers across five continents.

"Our topline is about ₹16,000 crore now and we hope, with the renewed focus on a greener future and with the new brand identity, revenue should be crossing ₹20,000 crore by 2032," Nyrika Holkar, group executive director and the sister of group chairman and managing director Jamshyd Naoroji Godrej, told TNIE here on Thursday.

Holkar, married to the Indore royal family, said over the next seven years, 50% of the revenue would come from new, greener business that the group is driving now. Currently, as much as ₹10,000 crore of its topline come from consumer businesses and the rest from industrial and other businesses. Addressing the media after unveiling the new logo, Godrej said there is no plan on the table to take any of the group's businesses public.

"All our businesses are strong and cash generating. Our cash flows are so strong we never felt the need to tap the capital markets to raise funds. But going forward, though we will not say we will not take any of our units public, there is nothing on the cards as of now," Godrej said in a response to a question from the press.

On being asked whether the GEG will be new holding company, he answered in the negative, saying, "all through these years, Godrej Boyce has been our holding company and even under the new identity, we have no plans to change that."

The undivided Godrej group is the largest landowner in the megapolis with over 3,700 hectares of land-bank, of which around 1,000 hectares are free for development while the rest are either protected mangroves or salt-pans on the northeastern fringes of the city.

GAIL, INEOS revive PTA plant in M'luru

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

GAIL (India) Limited, via wholly-owned subsidiary GAIL Mangalore Petrochemicals Limited (GMPL), has re-engaged process licensor INEOS to support revival of its 1.25 million tonne per annum purified terephthalic acid (PTA) manufacturing plant in Mangaluru.

The original agreement for the PTA project was signed with INEOS by JBF Petrochemicals (JBF), but was never fully realised due to insolvency proceedings involving JBF. Following GAIL's acquisition of JBF under the Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process (CIRP) of the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) in June 2023, the company is now focused on overcoming legacy challenges to restore the plant's operations and ensure its long-term viability.

"Through this partnership and renewed focus, GAIL aims to position GMPL as a key player in domestic PTA market while supporting the country's growth in petrochemical manufacturing." GAIL director (BD) R K Singhal said, "Successful realisation of this project is expected to have a positive impact by reducing the country's import burden and strengthening manufacturing capabilities in the petrochemical sector."

'No delays in banking, Aadhaar OTP messages due to new traceability rules'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) has assured consumers that there will be no disruptions in the delivery of essential net banking and Aadhaar OTP messages starting December 1, as the new traceability rules are implemented.

To combat the growing issue of cybercrime, TRAI had introduced a rule on October 1 requiring telecom service providers to establish a system for tracking the origins of bulk messages. The original deadline for implementing these measures was set for October 31 but was later extended to November 30 due to technical challenges faced by operators.

As the new deadline approaches, a video circulating on social media claimed that OTP and banking messages could be delayed due to the introduction of the new technology. In response, TRAI clarified that there will be no delay in the delivery of any messages. "This is factually incorrect. TRAI has mandated the Access Providers to ensure message traceability. It will not delay delivery of any message," said TRAI, in a social media post.

The TRAI has directed telcos, including Reliance Jio, Bharti Airtel, and Vodafone Idea, to implement message traceability in their systems. This measure aims to identify the source of bulk SMS traffic and is designed to curb the spread of fraudulent messages. Once the system is in place, authorities will be able to take action against the originators of such schemes.

Initially, telecom companies expressed concerns about the technical complexities involved in deploying new system. However, TRAI has emphasized that the implementation of message traceability will not cause any delays in message delivery. In August, TRAI also took several steps to curb promotional calls, including penalties for offenders, such as the disconnection of telecom resources, blacklisting for up to two years, and restrictions on obtaining new resources during that period.

GCCs to pay 50% higher salary than non-tech sectors

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

Data scientists, full-stack developers in demand

For FY25, GCCs are prioritising roles like penetration tester, data scientist, full stack developer, software developer and customer success specialist. IT products & services sector is seeking Big Data developers, IT auditors, RPA business analysts, cloud engineers and IoT engineers, says the analysis

WITH the increase in the number of Global Capability Centres (GCCs) in the country, the job opportunities that they provide have also surged over the years. An analysis by TeamLease Digital reveals that GCCs are estimated to pay premium salaries in the Software Development domain, which is over 50% more than IT Products & Services and non-tech sectors.

Employers are now preferring candidates with AI/ML skills in software development, and due to this, entry-level positions in this domain are expected to see an average salary of ₹9.37 lakh per annum in GCCs, followed by ₹6.23 LPA in IT products & services, and Rs 6 LPA in non-tech sectors by the end of FY25.

For FY25, GCCs are prioritising roles such as Penetration Tester, Data Scientist, Full Stack Developer, Software Developer, and Customer Success Specialist. The IT Products & Services sector is seeking Big Data Developers, IT Auditors, RPA Business Analysts, Cloud Security Engineers, and IoT Engineers, says the analysis.

It says non-tech sectors are focusing on roles like Data Engineer, SAP ABAP Consultant, Cloud Support Engineer, Cybersecurity Analyst, and Automation Engineer.

In cybersecurity and network administration domain, a critical field ensuring IT infrastructure protection, GCCs are expected to lead with an average salary of ₹9.57 lakh per annum, which is 40.12% higher than their IT counterparts, showcasing the critical need for expertise in identifying vulnerabilities and mitigating risk exposure, while IT products and services may offer ₹6.83 LPA, and non-tech sectors ₹5.17 LPA.

Neeti Sharma, CEO, TeamLease Digital, said, "India's entry-level job market is witnessing dynamic changes. While IT Services have seen a slowdown in fresher and entry-level hiring over the last 2–3 years, it is the GCCs and non-tech sectors that have emerged as the torchbearers for welcoming young talent and offering rich opportunities."

"GCCs are expected to lead the way, offering premium salaries, particularly in roles like Penetration Testing and Data Science, with average packages reaching ₹11.8 LPA. This surge can be attributed to the rapid expansion of GCCs in India employing more than 1.66 million people and their need to maintain global standards," Sharma added.

SL all out for record-low 42 in Durban Test

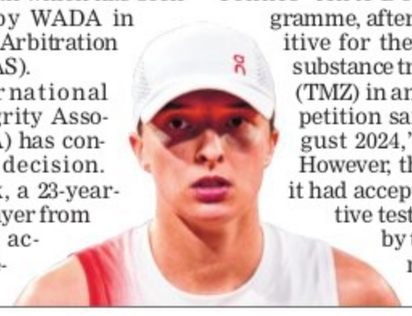
Sri Lanka was bowled out by South Africa for 42 at Kingsmead (Durban) on Thursday, their lowest total in test cricket. Sri Lanka's previous worst was 71 just over 20 years ago in Kandy against Pakistan. South Africa needed only 83 legal deliveries — 13.5 overs — to rout the Sri Lankans in their first innings. That's the lowest number of deliveries in 100 years. England routed South Africa in 75 balls in 1924.

Doping shocker again in tennis: Swiatek accepts one-month ban

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

IN another high-profile doping case in tennis, five-time Grand Slam winner Iga Swiatek accepted one-month ban for failing a test. Months after it was revealed that World No 1 Jannik Sinner tested positive for banned substance twice, this has come as another shocker. Swiatek tested positive for trimetazidine (TMZ) during an out-of-competition testing on a sample taken on August 12, 2024 ahead of the Cincinnati Open.

TMZ is non-specified substance under the World Anti-Doping Agency Code prohibited list and is metabolic modulators. It is banned at all times and incurs a provisional suspension once it is detected in a sample. The drug is used to treat disorder like angina and it helps more blood flow to the heart.



Sinner too was let off with a one-month ban which has been challenged by WADA in the Court of Arbitration of Sports (CAS).

The International Tennis Integrity Association (ITIA) has confirmed the decision. "Iga Swiatek, a 23-year-old tennis player from Poland, has accepted a one-month suspension under the Tennis Anti-Doping Programme, after testing positive for the prohibited substance trimetazidine (TMZ) in an out-of-competition sample in August 2024," said ITIA. However, the ITIA said it had accepted the positive test was caused by the contamination of a regulated non-prescription drug that is manufactured and is available in Poland to address jet lag and sleep issues. The ITIA has come to this conclusion after investigation that included testing of the product used by the athlete as well as a sealed unused product of the same batch at an WADA-accredited laboratory.

Swiatek was informed about the positive test on September 12 and provisional suspension was slapped until October 4.

Swiatek, in a video statement, said she was distraught when she learnt about the test. She said that she was going through tough times during the last two and a half months. She said she spent sleepless nights and the whole thing would stay with her for the rest of her life. "It took a lot of strength, returning to training after this situation nearly broke my heart," she said. The ITIA clarified that the contamination was confirmed by the independent and WADA-accredited Sports Medicine Research & Testing Laboratory (SMRTL) in Utah, USA and the scenario was verified by an independent scientific expert from another WADA-accredited laboratory". It needs to be seen if WADA steps in and approaches the CAS.

PCB does not want Hybrid CT; ICC board to meet today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

A day before an all-important ICC board meeting scheduled to be held virtually to finalise the schedule of the 2025 Champions Trophy, the Pakistan Cricket Board on Thursday afternoon has conveyed to the world governing body that hybrid model is not acceptable to it.

The ICC awarded the tournament to Pakistan, who are reigning champions by virtue of winning the 2017 edition, in 2021. The tournament was originally slated to be held in February-March across Karachi, Lahore and Rawalpindi. However, the Indian cricket board (BCCI) a few weeks ago told the ICC that its team will not travel to Pakistan that eventually delayed finalisation of the schedule. "The PCB told the ICC this afternoon that hybrid is a non-starter and they need to present something new at the board meeting on Friday," a source closely monitoring the situation told this daily. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 4PM IST on Friday. Speaking on the hybrid model, the source said, "PCB will reject the offer. The onus is now on the ICC to come up with a solution acceptable to all including the PCB."

The PCB chairman Mohsin Naqvi also spoke to local media on Wednesday night while inspecting ongoing construction works at the Gaddafi Stadium in Lahore. "It is just not possible that while Pakistan keeps on going and playing in India all events, the Indian authorities are not willing to send their team to play in Pakistan. We can't have such an unequal situation," Naqvi told reporters. He also reiterated that the outcome of the ICC meeting will be conveyed to the Pakistan government, which in turn will take a final call. Reports also suggested that the PCB will accept hybrid model only if the same is adopted for the future ICC events scheduled in India. It means Pakistan will not play their matches in India during such tournaments and the ICC have to allot hosting rights to neutral venues to organise their games.

WHAT TO EXPECT

With the ICC board meeting on Friday to discuss Champions Trophy among other things, a look at what happens from here on...

- Pak agrees to hybrid model where some matches are played in the country while India games and others are moved out to UAE or some other country
- Pak doesn't agree to hybrid model and tournament gets moved out to another country. There is a chance that Pak might refuse to participate given their current stand
- Although it is extremely unlikely, the other scenario is where India doesn't travel and tournament happens in Pak without them

While members from other boards remained tight-lipped on the matter, the BCCI, especially with its secretary Jay Shah taking over as the ICC chair on December 1, will be eager to resolve the issue.

Even the official broadcaster has reportedly contacted the ICC over the delay in releasing the schedule. Given the situation, the ICC cannot afford to keep the issue lingering on.

Though Sri Lanka will not be competing in the tournament, postponement of Sri Lanka A 50-over match series against Pakistan Shaheens a couple of days back due to political unrest in Pakistan has put the PCB on a sticky wicket. The hosts won the first 50-over match played in Islamabad on Monday. The remaining two matches were scheduled in Rawalpindi on Wednesday and Friday but were postponed. The Sri Lanka A team flew out of the country on Wednesday afternoon.

MIND AT REST, EYES ON NEXT MOVE

With three games of the chess World C'ship done, some themes are emerging from the tournament. A look...

Gukesh beats the nerves

The surest sign that D Gukesh has now eased himself into the tournament came less than 30 minutes after he took the third game. When he was asked a question about Magnus Carlsen's assessment of the first game — "It's hard to understate how bad this was from Gukesh, he did not make a single good decision the whole game..." — the teen composed himself before replying in a 'very mature' (the words the Norwegian used when he was asked about it on Wednesday) manner. "I always knew once I settled in, I would get back to my rhythm... I think it's a very normal reaction (having some nerves), and I was okay with that. It was a bad game, but I was generally feeling good. For example, even Magnus, in his first World Championship match, he wasn't at his best at the start."

Indian's deep prep with white

On Wednesday, Gukesh caught his opponent off-guard after both players came out of the opening. Being still in prep after 13 moves is a sign of confidence; it's a reflection of how deep his opening prep has been compared to his opponent. It has made Liren spend a lot of time at the table. He recovered in game one but couldn't in game three.

Carlsen should've been here

A day before the Championship began, Carlsen, by most accounts the greatest player to have played the game, fired up his X (formerly Twitter) to post a message. "Freestyle > Classical". He was in Singapore playing a two-game freestyle tournament on a yacht with Fabiano Caruana before Gukesh v. Liren started. At some level, Carlsen would have been one of the two players in the main event if he hadn't abdicated his throne thanks to a lack of motivation and the long winding nature of prep work involved in a final like this. But the game has learned to move on. The principal stakeholders for any game -- the fans -- have come through the turnstiles from multiple countries and generally are okay with him not being there. "It would be nice but it's okay," was how one of the fans put it. But the Norwegian remains obsessed with this version; he feels compelled to dissect every game and put it on an app he owns. It's all part of the Carlsen experience and it's why there are scores of people waiting for him to come back. There's a sneaky feeling that he may do just that as long as Gukesh wins the title. The 33-year-old has indeed grown tired of the World Championship cycle but he is, first and foremost, a fierce competitor who loves nothing less than a challenge against a younger player. The word on the street — according to some GMs who are working in Singapore as part of the final — is they wouldn't be surprised if he throws himself back into competition mode if the prize is facing a Gukesh, an Alireza Firouzja, Arjun Erigaisi or an R Praggnanandhaa.

Singapore embraces game

When the city-state had officially beaten bids from New Delhi and Chennai, the country, it seemed, was a logical choice. There would be no home advantage for the Indian. At the same time, because of Singapore's geography in south-east Asia, both players would feel at home. Even on the opening day of the tournament, there were a few 'hmmm' exchanged because there was no publicity for the event. If you stayed in Singapore and had no idea about chess, chances are you would still have no idea about this event. But that hasn't mattered because fans have trickled in from around the world. One Indian family decided to plan their holiday to ensure 'we watched game one on the way back from Japan where we had gone for a vacation'. FIDE (world governing body for chess) director general, Emil Sutovsky, couldn't be happier with Singapore. "We have got a great response," he told this daily. "Tickets are also sold out for the next few days," he said on Wednesday.

Liren will be fine

In the months leading up to the final, there were copious amounts of column inches dedicated to Ding Liren's state of mind. While the Chinese world champion was rather candid in all of his interviews, a lot of GMs and pundits expected a one-sided final. Truth be said, the 32-year-old has, by and large, played solid chess for large parts of the first three games. In fact, if he had pushed in game two when he had a much better pawn structure with white pieces when they agreed to shake hands for a relatively quick draw, he may have enjoyed a bigger advantage going into game three.

THURSDAY WAS A REST DAY

Final resumes with game four on Friday when Liren has white pieces

From 5.00 PM Singapore time (2.30 PM IST)

Gukesh puts a gag order... on his dad

A few more are expected to join the Indian press corps over the next week or so. Right now, though, only three Indian writers are covering the event. When two of those had approached Dr. Rajinikanth on Wednesday night for an interview request, the response wasn't too encouraging. "He has asked me not to talk to the media." However, the ENT surgeon did agree to the prospect of a sit down post the final.

India in line to host 'very major event' in 2025, says top FIDE official Sutovsky

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Singapore

THE world governing body for chess (FIDE) could be set to host a 'very major event' in India in 2025. While the body's director general, Emil Sutovsky, didn't name the event, he said there was constant dialogue between Indian administrators and FIDE. "There's always talk with India," he told select Indian media persons on the sidelines of the chess World Championship. "It's incredibly important for us.

"We are in constant talks with the All India Chess Federation (AICF) and there's a connection with Tamil Nadu as well... you know that (Arkady) Dvorkovich met (chief minister) MK Stalin (the two met before the Olympiad in Mahabalipuram in 2022). I believe that maybe already in 2025, we will have a very major event in India. I'm not saying in Tamil Nadu but in India. Going forward, with such a huge interest, it's only logical that India would host more and more top events."

However, he expressed disappointment about the lack of engagement by Indian private companies for the ongoing Championship between Ding Liren and D Gukesh. "I have to say I'm a bit disappointed about the level of engagement of Indian private companies... for this event particularly I would have expected more engagement in terms of broadcasting and sponsorship. But overall, I'm incredibly happy to have Google as the title sponsor. I just think for Indian companies, it was a missed opportunity not to be here."

However, Sutovsky did say they would be onboarded as and when an event comes to India. He was also bullish that India would have a 'big financial impact' on what's happening in the chess world, be it online or OTB (over the board). "I was talking to Daniel Rensch from chess.com the other day. I told him that 'you guys are focusing on the American markets so far but think India is going to be, not only by numbers but also by impact, the No. 1 market soon'. We already know that the numbers are very high. But I also think that overall — GDP and things like that — Indian chess lovers will have a bigger financial impact on what's happening, be it online or OTB."

Rohit & Co call on Oz PM ahead of practice tie

AGENCIES @Canberra

AUSTRALIAN Prime Minister Anthony Albanese on Thursday hosted a reception for the travelling Indian cricket team ahead of their two-day pink-ball practice match against PM's XI here from November 30. The game will take place at the Manuka Oval serving as good preparation for the day-night Test in Adelaide from December 6.

India recorded their biggest win on Australia soil in the opening game of the Border-Gavaskar Trophy in Perth. Following the protocol, India skipper Rohit Sharma introduced all his teammates to Albanese, who praised heroes of the first Test. "Big challenge ahead for the PM's XI at Manuka Oval this week against an amazing Indian side," the Australian PM posted on 'X' after the meeting at the Australian parliament.

HOSTS ADD UNCAPPED WEBSTER TO SQUAD

SYDNEY: Australia have added uncapped all-rounder Beau Webster to their squad for the second Test as cover for Mitchell Marsh, whose fitness remains a concern. Marsh had pulled up "sore" following Australia's 295-run hammering in the series opener in Perth earlier this week. Webster, also a right-hand pace all-rounder like Marsh, has been the stand out performer in the Sheffield Shield over the past two years. The 30-year-old has collected 1788 runs including five hundreds and nine fifties.

Boris scores only goal as FC Goa sink Blasters

AGENCIES @Kochi

FC GOA notched their 50th clean sheet in the competition and continued their formidable form as they edged past Kerala Blasters FC 1-0 in the Indian Super League (ISL) here on Thursday.

It was an intensely cagey affair between the two teams, as neither was allowing an inch to their opposition. It was an interesting midfield tussle, with the Blasters preferring their home-grown talents, Vibin Mohanan and Freddy Lallawmawma, against FC Goa's Carl McHugh-led midfield. The Gaurs were relentless in attack post the 30-minute mark and their persistence bore fruit when Sahil Tavora found Boris Singh on the right flank with acres of space. The winger tried his luck from a narrow angle and to everyone's surprise, Sachin Suresh failed to parry the ball away, conceding in the 40th minute.

5 This was Kerala Blasters' fifth loss of the season. Out of those losses, four have come at home.

Perfect Liverpool on top of CL, Dortmund also among winners

AGENCIES @Paris

LIVERPOOL are the only team with a perfect record in this season's Champions League after beating title-holders Real Madrid 2-0 in their heavyweight clash on Wednesday, with last season's runners-up Borussia Dortmund among the night's other winners.

The showdown at Anfield saw Real attempting to extend a run of eight games unbeaten against Liverpool. However, Arne Slot's Premier League leaders were too strong, with Alexis MacAllister putting them ahead early in the second half. Kylian Mbappe endured a frustrating night and squandered a chance to equalise for Madrid after an hour when his penalty was saved. Mohamed Salah then missed from the spot at the other end but substitute Cody Gakpo headed in Liverpool's second goal on 76 minutes.

They are the sole side with five wins from five in this new-look Champions League, and are now guaranteed to advance at least to the knockout phase play-offs in February. Real have lost three of their five matches and with six points they are 24th, the very last qualifying spot for the knockout phase. Inter Milan sit second on 13 points, followed by Barcelona and Dortmund each on 12, with the Germans winning 3-0 against Dinamo Zagreb.

RESULTS

Red Star Belgrade 5-1 Stuttgart; Sturm Graz 1-0 Girona; Aston Villa 0-0 Juventus; Bologna 1-2 Lille; Celtic 1-1 Club Brugge; Dinamo Zagreb 0-3 Dortmund; Liverpool 2-0 Real Madrid; Monaco 2-3 Benfica; PSV Eindhoven 3-2 Shakhtar Donetsk.

Villa, Juventus draw

Aston Villa started with three straight victories in the Champions League but were six matches without a win in all competitions before hosting Juventus. The game ended 0-0, with the English side denied in stoppage time when a Morgan Rogers goal was disallowed for a foul on goalkeeper Michele Di Gregorio. Villa are just outside the top eight places offering direct access to the last 16, as one of seven teams on 10 points with three fixtures remaining.

Monaco missed the chance to cement their top-eight spot as they went down 3-2 at home to Benfica in a dramatic game.

TOP 5 TECH TRENDS TO WATCH IN 2025

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

FROM the emergence of smaller GenAI language models and AI agents to semiconductors and spacetech, Capgemini's tech trends for 2024 received a lot of attention. This year, Capgemini has unveiled its TechnoVision Top 5 Tech Trends to Watch in 2025, which is focused on the technologies that are expected to reach an inflection point in 2025. The focus is on AI and generative AI (Gen AI), and it is anticipated that they will have a significant impact on other key technologies which are likely to reach a stage of maturity or breakthrough in 2025.

GENERATIVE AI

FROM COPILOTS TO REASONING AI AGENTS

1 AI systems are now evolving from isolated tasks to specialised and interconnected agents, and Gen AI is now more about agentification. According to a report from Capgemini Research Institute, which will be published in January next year, 32% of top executives place AI agents as the top technology trend in data and AI for 2025. AI systems can handle dynamic decision-making in more sensitive environments where correctness is paramount. The next step will be the rise of a superagent, an orchestrator of multiple AI systems, optimising their interactions. In 2025, these advancements will enable new AI ecosystems across industries, allowing new levels of efficiency and innovation, experts with Capgemini said.

CYBERSECURITY

NEW DEFENSES, NEW THREATS

2 Organisations across various industries view cybersecurity as a big challenge. Up to 44% of top executives in the upcoming Capgemini Research Institute report place the impacts of Gen AI in cyber as the top technology topic in cybersecurity for 2025. To mitigate these risks, there have been renewed investments and innovations in endpoint and network security, increased efforts to automate threat detection, especially using AI-driven threat intelligence, as well as an effort to prepare for the future by reinforcing encryption algorithms, in particular the growing interest into Post-Quantum Cryptography to protect against the next expected disruption: quantum-computing threats.

AI-DRIVEN ROBOTICS

BLURRING THE LINES BETWEEN HUMANS AND MACHINES

3 Advancements in AI technology have accelerated the development of next-generation robots, building upon innovations in mechatronics and expanding beyond traditional industrial uses. While robotics used to be dominated by hard-coded, task-specific machines, the development of Gen AI is spurring the development of new products including humanoid robots and collaborative robots - or cobots that can adapt to diverse scenarios and learn continuously from their environment.

NUCLEAR

THE SURGE OF AI DRIVING THE CLEAN TECH AGENDA

4 According to Capgemini, the energy industry is in the midst of a transformative shift, with the energy transition accelerating at an unprecedented pace, and this change is fueled by mounting pressure to fight climate change and supported by rapid innovations across various sectors, from renewables and biofuels to low carbon Hydrogen and beyond. Nuclear energy stands out as a focal point for 2025, and nuclear energy is re-emerging at the top of the business agenda, propelled by the urgent need for clean, dependable and controllable power that can support the rising energy demands of AI and other high-energy technologies. Major tech players are now turning to nuclear energy to meet their growing computing needs.

NEW GENERATION SUPPLY CHAINS

AGILE, GREENER AND AI-ASSISTED

5 In the past few years, businesses have had to navigate increasingly complex, unpredictable market conditions. Key technologies including AI, data, blockchain, IoT and connectivity with Terrestrial Satellite Networks are now playing a strategic role in improving the cost efficiency, resilience, agility, circularity, and sustainability of supply chains. These technologies are allowing companies to enhance their predictive capacities and navigate an ever-changing ecosystem as they have now reached a sufficiently high level of maturity and therefore reliability. Also, progress in space tech is particularly essential to increase coverage in white spots which is crucial for companies to be able to control their entire supply chains throughout the globe.

Apart from these, Capgemini points out that engineering biology, quantum computing and artificial general intelligence are technologies that will shape the coming five years.

Investing in differentiated connectivity can boost telcos' revenue: Ericsson

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

Recently, telecom equipment maker Ericsson suggested in one of its reports that Indian telecom service providers invest in differentiated connectivity as consumers are willing to pay extra for it. In simple terms, Indian telcos such as Reliance Jio, Bharti Airtel, and Vodafone Idea Limited (VIL) need to improve coverage at high-traffic locations such as stadiums, railway stations, airports, and concert venues, as consumers are willing to pay an additional 20% for better services. According to Ericsson, one in six 5G users is willing to pay an extra 20% on their monthly mobile bill for guaranteed connectivity at event venues. The report also mentioned that this move would give service providers a significant opportunity to increase 5G average revenue per user (ARPU) by 5-12%.

Jasmeet Sethi, head of ConsumerLab at Ericsson, emphasised that telecom companies globally have already begun adopting this strategy and are seeing a return on investment. These companies are not targeting the mass market, which tends to prioritize affordability over quality. Instead, they are focusing on high-ARPU and postpaid subscribers, who are willing to pay more for a superior experience. "We need to adopt a similar approach in India," Sethi said. hi said.

In this article, we will explore what differentiated connectivity is and how it works.

What is differentiated connectivity?

Differentiated connectivity uses advanced technologies like network slicing and APIs to enable telecom providers to offer more reliable and customized services. Instead of just providing standard internet, telecom companies can deliver faster, more stable connections tailored to the specific needs of users. This can significantly improve experiences for activities such as streaming, gaming, or staying connected in crowded environments like stadiums or airports. Essentially, it ensures a more dependable service in situations where regular networks might struggle. For instance, at a sports event in a stadium, network slicing can guarantee that fans streaming the game or using mobile apps enjoy a fast, uninterrupted connection, even when thousands of people are using the network simultaneously.

Growing demand for differentiated connectivity

According to Ericsson, around 60% of the 5G users surveyed reported experiencing connectivity issues in crowded areas. These issues are particularly common at outdoor event venues, stadiums, and indoor locations like shopping malls and retail centers. The primary cause of these problems is insufficient indoor coverage and limited network capacity, which result in gaps in 5G availability and inconsistent connections. The report also notes that across 16 markets, 35% of 5G users have shown growing interest in connectivity that exceeds standard 5G performance. These users are especially looking for enhanced connectivity for essential services like video calls and streaming. Additionally, users of generative artificial intelligence (GenAI) are willing to pay 35% more for guaranteed performance, signaling a shift in expectations for connectivity.

The scenario in India

In densely populated countries like India, Thailand, and Brazil, 1.5 times more users are interested in paying for differentiated connectivity compared to the global average. These are mobile-first markets, where there is a particularly strong reliance on mobile connectivity. In these markets, the growing demand for differentiated connectivity can be attributed more to the need for improved network capacity than general network inadequacy.

Global trends

According to the survey, 5G users worldwide are willing to pay a moderate premium for differentiated connectivity, especially for core services such as video calls (for both work and personal reasons) and media streaming. In Singapore, 52% of users are interested in real-time communications and collaboration, as well as payment and banking services, with the highest premium set for creating and uploading content. In the US, 50% of 5G users are interested in performance assurance for streaming media, and 48% are interested in real-time communications and collaboration services. However, the highest premium in the US is set for categories such as gaming, augmented reality, and GenAI apps.

AI will positively influence sustainability goals

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

ABOUT 96% of Indian executives believe that artificial intelligence (AI) can positively impact their sustainability goals. IBM released its State of Sustainability Readiness Report 2024, and according to that, globally, respondents had a positive take on AI's potential for sustainability as nine out of 10 surveyed executives agree that AI will positively influence achieving their sustainability goals. Most business leaders in India are already leveraging the power of AI, as 64% of Indian companies are actively using AI in their sustainability efforts.

The report also reveals that 98% of Indian business leaders surveyed are planning to increase investment in IT for sustainability over the next one year. The research states that the majority of Indian respondents view investments in IT as vital not only for environmental responsibility but also to drive long-term business resilience (61%) and brand reputation (64%).

"As sustainability becomes central to business growth strategies, AI is proving to be a game-changer in driving responsible growth," said Sandip Patel, managing director of IBM India/South Asia. "Today, India stands out as a leader in AI-driven sustainability. Business leaders across the country view sustainability as a strategic lever for transformation, and IBM is advancing AI solutions to help accelerate their sustainability goals," he added.

The report also highlights water usage as one of the top challenges specific to Indian companies.

While 81% of Indian leaders adopt a proactive approach towards Climate Resilience, 54% implement opportunity-driven sustainability investments.

Recommendations

The report provides following key recommendations to business leaders:

1. Invest in the AI tools that are right for your organisation. For instance, generative AI can provide insights that help identify opportunities to reduce carbon emissions and create scenarios and algorithms for more sustainable business practices.
2. Lean in on data to lessen the perception gap between C-suite and lower-level decision makers as top challenges to sustainability continue to evolve, organisations should collect data from across their business to better understand the difference in perceptions between C-suite and lower-level decision makers. Leveraging data analysis and reporting tools can uncover blind spots and maintain visibility and alignment across the organisation, the report said.

India's PC market at all-time high in third quarter of 2024

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

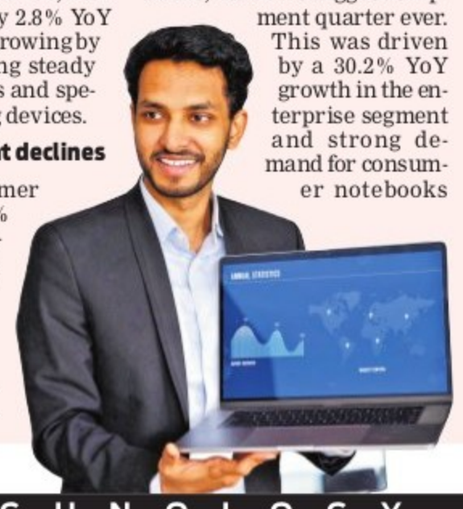
INDIA'S traditional PC market, which includes desktops, notebooks, and workstations, achieved an all-time high of 4.49 million units shipped in the third quarter of 2024 (3Q24), reflecting a modest 0.1% year-over-year (YoY) growth, according to data from IDC. While the overall market saw growth, performance across different categories varied. The desktop category continued to face challenges, declining by 8.1% YoY, as demand for traditional desktops continues to wane in favor of more portable devices. In contrast, the notebook and workstation categories showed marginal growth, with notebooks rising by 2.8% YoY and workstations growing by 2.4% YoY, indicating steady demand for laptops and specialised computing devices.

Consumer segment declines

In 3Q24, the consumer segment saw a 2.9% YoY decline, despite vendors aggressively discounting PCs on e-tail platforms. This decline was largely due to a more balanced demand environment this year, with fewer overstocking issues compared to 3Q23. The commercial segment, however, grew by 4.4% YoY, driven by businesses investing in new devices for their employees. The enterprise segment experienced even stronger growth, up 9.6% YoY, fueled by enterprises refreshing their IT infrastructure.

Leading PC brands in India

When it comes to brand performance, HP Inc. led the market with a share of 29% in 3Q24, maintaining its leadership in both the commercial and consumer segments. HP had a particularly strong quarter, shipping 1.05 million notebooks, its third biggest shipment quarter ever. This was driven by a 30.2% YoY growth in the enterprise segment and strong demand for consumer notebooks during the festive season.



Lenovo, the Chinese laptop maker, ranked second with a 17.3% share, while Dell Technologies secured third place with 14.6% of the market. In the commercial segment, Dell came second behind HP, with a 20.8% market share and a 4.7% YoY growth.

The Acer Group tied with Dell for third place, also holding 14.6% market share. Acer saw impressive 26.2% YoY growth in 3Q24. Asus, ranked fifth with a 9.7% market share, faced a 22.3% YoY decline, largely due to a leaner inventory compared to the previous year. However, Asus performed well in the consumer segment, where it was second only to HP with a 16.2% share. Asus also saw a 5.5% YoY growth in the commercial segment.

Outlook for PC market

Looking ahead, Navkendar Singh, associate vice president (devices research) at IDC India, South Asia & ANZ, provided a positive outlook for India's PC market. He noted that the commercial PC market is on the recovery path, as businesses have started refreshing their IT devices. The IT/ITES sector's buying activity has already begun and is expected to gain momentum in CY2025.

TCS sets up advanced lab with IIT-K to promote innovation

Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) has set up an advanced research centre in partnership with the Indian Institute of Technology Kharagpur (IIT-K) to produce high-quality research in the areas of digital health, robotics and intelligent systems. The labs will be in the domains of sensing and communications, edge computing and analytics, and robotics and visual computing, the company said. The centre will give researchers access to advanced equipment that would help them accelerate innovations in the cutting-edge technologies such as edge computing, embedded systems and artificial intelligence. "One of our focus areas is to co-locate our research and innovation labs in academic institutions to enable a more efficient exchange of knowledge and talent" Harrick Vin, Chief Technology Officer, TCS, said

Tech Mahindra, USI establish new development centre in India

Tech Mahindra in partnership with Universal Scientific Industrial (Shanghai), USI, a leader in electronic design and manufacturing and SiP (System-in-Package) technology, will establish USI's first Engineering Offshore Development Centre (ODC) in India. The development centre will accelerate innovation in smart device engineering, Tech Mahindra said. This collaboration aims to provide scalable solutions, accelerate time-to-market, and deliver innovative advancements, it said. It will leverage Tech Mahindra's specialised talent pool and advanced labs, focusing on technologies expected to drive the future of connected devices, additive manufacturing, connected vehicles, and augmented and virtual reality. The centre will provide comprehensive services, including modem software development, android telephony, middleware, board support package and device driver engineering, it said

Lava Launches Yuva 4 at ₹6,999 for first-time smartphone users

Lava International Ltd. has unveiled the Yuva 4, a new entry-level smartphone priced at ₹6,999. Available in two variants—4GB+64GB and 4GB+128GB—the Yuva 4 is designed to offer powerful performance, a sleek design, and a smooth user experience for first-time smartphone buyers. It features a 6.56-inch HD+ display with a 90Hz refresh rate, a 50MP rear camera, an 8MP front camera, and a 5000mAh battery. Powered by the UNISOC T606 chipset and running Android 14, the phone ensures smooth performance and ample storage options. The Yuva 4 comes in three colors—Glossy White, Glossy Purple, and Glossy Black—and includes a 1-year warranty with free home service.
